Hall China Gets Top Award

County Industries Lauded For Their Safety Efforts

Companies from East Liverpool, Wellsville and other communities in the district were among those recognized for achievement during the 10th annual awards banquet held Thursday night in conjunction with the Columbiana County industrial safety campaign.

Nearly 350 attended the meeting at the Masonic Temple in Salem which saw a record number of awards made.

The Hall China Co. of East Liverpool was among five companies accorded special recognition for outstanding records in the field of industrial safety. The other four concerns were from Salem.

Hall's operated 771,484 man-hours from Nov. 1, 1958, to Dec. 31, 1959, without a lost time accident. It was one of six concerns listed in the triple awards category.

Others receiving awards included: Ervin Machine Co., Potters Supply Co., S. C. Williams Co., Dacar Products Co., Ohio Bell Telephone Co., The Riggs Co., Ceramic Specialties Co., Porcelain Division of Ferro Enamel, Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., the American Vitrified Products Co. and The Review, all of East Liverpool; Stevenson Co., W. C. Bunting Co., H. K. Porter Co. Champion Works and Wesco Manufacturing Co., all of Wellsville; Summitville Tiles of Summitville; Lakewood Chemical Co. of Negley.

A warning that "concern must come before accidents happen, not after" came from the guest speaker, Larman Sherwood of Rotterdam Junction, N. Y., nationally-known lecturer on human relations.

Sherwood, blind since birth, used "The eyes have it" as the theme for his remarks, which lay stress on the importance of industrial safety.

The safety banquet is sponsored by the Division of Safety and Hygiene of the Industrial Commission of Ohio and the Salem Manufacturers Association.

West Ready To Meet Red Propaganda

Gets Set To Counter Khrushchev Moves At Summit Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western allies are getting set to counter an expected barrage of propaganda proposals from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in the broad field of East-West relations.

Khrushchev may spring a series of such unacceptable propositions at next month's summit conference when talk moves from disarmament, Berlin and Germany into a catch-all category, East-West relations.

For weeks Allied diplomats have been drafting possible counter proposals in this area. Allied foreign ministers are expected to approve them when they gather here Tuesday for a three-day round of pre-summit strategy session.

Most of the backstage work in this area thus far reflects the belief that fringe proposals Khrushchev may unveil will be of little value until the Soviets make genuine concession in settling the future of disarmament, Berlin and Germany.

This skeptical Allied attitude, however, is not expected to prevent Khrushchev from playing to international public opinion with a series of proposals put forth in an effort to prove the Soviet Union has peaceful intentions.

Diplomatic officials involved in the Allied preparations anticipate anything from Khrushchev maneuvers calling for more trade and cultural exchanges, to revivals of oft-rejected Soviet proposals for a scrapping of the Atlantic Pact and a non-aggression alliance between the Warsaw powers and Western allies.

In canvassing possibilities in this area, Allied diplomats have not come up with any red hot proposal of their own which they genuinely believe might ease tensions.

French diplomats are reported interested in proposing that the Soviet Union join the West in a combined economic aid program to key countries. French President Charles de Gaulle may discuss this idea with President Eisenhower when he visits the White House April 22.

But American and British authorities are known to be taking a dim view of this approach, believing it would give the Soviets an unnecessary voice in the economic affairs of key countries.

Same Old Salad With More Russian Dressing, West Says

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today introduced a new set of negotiating principles in the 10-nation disarmament conference, but the West promptly described them as "the same old salad with more Russian dressing."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin claimed his document could form a new basis for discussion in the deadlocked conference. The Western powers denied this.

U.S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton told the conference that Zorin had completely misinterpreted the aims of the Western disarmament plan. He challenged the Soviet Union's claim that the West was not proposing concrete disarmament measures.

The Western powers said today's Soviet negotiating principles were no different from the original Soviet proposal for complete disarmament within a four-year period —which the five Western nations at the conference have rejected as totally unrealistic.

Details of Zorin's latest proposal were not made public immediately.

In reply, Eaton went through the list of items in the Western plan, including proposals for nuclear disarmament, reduction of force and weapon levels, the establishment of an international police force and the banning of weapons of mass destruction in outer space.

For the first time the American delegate specified that the United States is ready to remove existing fissionable materials from weapons stockpiles as part of an over-all nuclear disarmament program.

More Debate Planned By Southerners

Saturday Session Is Hinted If Measure Isn't Passed Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has moved its civil rights bill up to the voting stage, but a Southern senator said today "there's a good deal of speaking yet to be done."

Leaders talked of a Saturday session if the bill is not passed and sent back to the House today.

The Senate Thursday choked off any opportunity for further amendment of the measure, which has consumed eight weeks of debate and maneuvering.

Before doing so it adopted an amendment designed to meet Southerners' protests that the bill would give Negroes an advantage over white persons in registering to vote.

As the bill was drawn, federal judges could have authorized last-minute provisional registration of Negroes whose applications had not been acted on at election time. Southerners protested that white persons must register at least 30 days in advance. The change permits provisional registration only of those found qualified under state law.

Several of the bill's Dixie foes said privately they probably won't wage a full scale filibuster. They said they realize that a topheavy Senate majority is determined to pass the bill without much more delay and is in no mood to stand for any filibuster.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the majority leader, predicted there will be fewer than 30 votes against it when the 100-member Senate finally votes.

"I think the bill will be satisfactory to the attorney general, to the President and to the House," Johnson told a news conference.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), the Senate GOP leader, also predicted an early approving vote.

Farmers Ired By De Gaulle's Price Freeze

President Returns From London, Faces Agricultural Unrest

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle returned home today from a triumphant visit in London and faced up immediately to France's nagging agricultural unrest.

Fifty million Britons had acclaimed De Gaulle but 200,000 Frenchmen disagreed and the French President's first business upon his return home was a conference with Premier Michel Debre on the farm problem.

The French President wound up his three-day state visit to Britain today "with the good wishes of 50 million people (the British population)," the London Daily Express said.

But as the British cheered the French soldier-statesman, farmers at home were up in arms against his price freeze on their products.

Farmer demonstrations in Sens and Quimper Thursday turned into riots. Police used tear gas and nightsticks in battling the stone-throwing crowds. A dozen policemen were hurt and about a dozen demonstrators injured.

The farmers shouted their anger about their declining income and showed unwillingness in advance to accept the agriculture program being prepared by De Gaulle's cabinet.

The farmers feel that De Gaulle has failed to face up to their problems. When he came to power two years ago, the pressing problems were Algeria and the nation's finances. Agriculture was not nglected, but it had little priority.

One of the measures De Gaulle imposed to regain national financial stability struck an unpopular note with the farmers. He abolished the old sliding scale price system that guaranteed them increased prices every time the national cost of living rose.

Since the cost of living has been going up for decades in France, this system benefitted the farmer. However, economists said the system amounted to built-in inflation. They contended it set off an endless spiral because every time farm prices jumped, other prices went up too.

De Gaulle has refused to reinstate sliding scales. He promised some significant financial aid but refused demands of the farm bloc for a special parliamentary debate because his cabinet was still working on its price program.

Youth Suffers Knife Wound In Street Fight

A 20-year-old West End youth suffered a deep laceration of the right temple when slashed with a switchblade knife during a fight in front of the Veterans Social Club, 1044 PennsylvaniaAve., about 11:50 Thursday night, police reported.

Walter C. Hicks, 229 W. 8th St., was released after treatment at City Hospital for a gash that required 11 stitches to close, officers said.

Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark was conferring with the attack victim this morning, preparing to file charges against an East End man whom Hicks named as his assailant.

Hicks said the knifing resulted from a confused argument and fight in front of the East End club. The victim said he was standing on the sidewalk in front of the club when the alleged assailant said: "Quit looking at me!"

Hicks said he told the man to "Let me alone" and walked to his parked car nearby. As he opened the door, he said, the other man struck him. Hicks said he struck back and then discovered that he had been injured. A third man pulled the knife-wielder off the wounded man, Hicks said. The wounded man said he believes his attacker fled on foot when the fight was broken up.

Hicks was taken to the hospital for treatment and went to police headquarters for interrogation.

Leave Census Form Outside If Not Home

Progress of the census in this area is being slowed somewhat because a number of residents are not at home when enumerators arrive, Ray Neidengard and Mrs. Ruth Nicolaus, crew leaders, reported today.

They urged residents to complete the advance questionnaires and leave them outside the door in event they will not be home for some period. Enumerators report they have made many callbacks twice or more.

If householders find a note that an enumerator has called, they should place the advance form outside the door for the census taker if they will not be home again later.

South Africa Bans 2 Negro Political Units

Defiance Of Racial Policy Blunted But Crackdown Goes On

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The South African government appeared today to have blunted Negro defiance of its racial policy but there was no letup in the official crackdown.

The African National Congress and the Pan Africanist Congress —the only two Negro political groups of any note—were banned for one year. The government acted under emergency legislation rushed through Parliament after widespread Negro reaction to the police killing of 72 demonstrators nearly three weeks ago.

The government also called up more military reservists, although the Negro stay-home strike was waning.

The situation throughout the nation was more nearly normal than at any time since Negro demonstrations against carrying passes flared into violence three weeks ago.

Thousands of Negroes who burned their passes at the height of the campaign of defiance applied for new ones. They must have these "internal passports" to move around or work.

Workers streamed in and out of Johannesburg and most other cities Thursday without trouble. Most Negroes appeared to be working in disregard of the campaign of militant leaders to keep them at home until the government repealed the pass law.

But the calm that prevailed over the nation was uneasy.

Breaking into a play, the South African Broadcasting Corp. Thursday night read a long list of reservists and ordered them to report for duty immediately.

With most of their leaders jailed the Negroes so far accepted with outward docility the revival of the pass law, which was suspended temporarily after a bloody demonstration March 21.

Police and troops met no resistance in a raid Thursday on the big African township of Nyanga, near Cape Town, which has been a hard core of defiance. About 25,000 Negroes lived in the township.

Two Crippled Planes Make Safe Landings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A C124 Globemaster bounced safely into Hamilton Air Force Base, 20 miles north of here, Thursday night—"on about an engine and a half."

Less than 30 minutes later, another huge Military Air Transport Service plane, a C121 Constellation, landed at Travis Air Force Base, across the bay, with one of its four engines out. Both planes were inbound from Hawaii.

The Globemaster, a four-engine craft, carried 11 crewmen. The Constellation carried 84 passengers and crew.

It's not uncommon for the big planes to continue safely to their destination with one engine gone. But the boys in the control towers had their fingers crossed as they talked the Globemaster home.

Capt James R. Kolb, the Globemaster pilot, jettisoned 14 tons of cargo and asked for help.

Mill, Union Officials To Confer On Walkout

Another meeting was set tentatively for today by company and union officials over a walkout of some 125 employes of the forge stock department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. The stoppage began Monday evening.

Both sides met Wednesday. The men still are out in what the company termed an illegal work stoppage that occurred when an employe was sent home Monday evening because he refused to perform his job.

Officials Express Concern

Flood Fighters Hopeful; Keep Eye On Weak Dikes

By The Associated Press

Weary flood fighters kept a sharp eye on weakened dikes along the surging Mississippi and Missouri rivers today and appeared more hopeful than they have been in days.

However, officials expressed concern of possible break-throughs in some of the earthen dikes, which have been pounded by the swollen rivers for more than a week in areas from Quincy, Ill., into the Hannibal, Mo., district.

The Mississippi dropped steadily north of Quincy but downstream the crest was yet to come and workers bolstered the soggy flood walls on the Illinois and Missouri sides of the big river.

The only major levee break on the Illinois side was near Meyer, Ill., north of Quincy earlier this week. The break, which resulted in flooding of some 30,000 acres of fertile farm land, eased some of the pressure on levees on the Missouri side.

Downstream at Hannibal, Mo., basements of about 50 business establishments were flooded for the second time in a week Thursday but the crest is believed to have passed.

Flood waters spilled over about 10,000 acres of farm land in Pike County, Mo., north of St. Louis but officials said the situation appeared under control.

No serious damage was expected in the St. Louis area as the flood crest rushed toward the big city. The Mississippi is expected to crest at 34½ feet but 38 feet is regarded as the danger mark.

The Missouri appears to have eased in the area near St. Charles, Mo., where the Missouri empties into the Mississippi. Officials in St. Charles said, "We've got it under control."

The floods along the two big rivers in the last two weeks have caused an estimated 18 million dollars damage.

House Group Rejects Ike's Fund Request

President Sought Money To Hire 694 In 2 Departments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today rejected President Eisenhower's request for funds to hire 694 more employes in the State Department and the U. S. Information Agency.

In approving a $676,579,807 bill financing the two agencies along with the Justice Department and judiciary for the year starting July 1, the committee cut $37,223,948 from the President's initial requests.

However, the reduction still leaves the agencies with $14,563,161 more than they were given last year in a comparable bill.

The committees recommendations were allotted this way:

State Department: $223,784,754, a cut of $23,228,856 from presidential requests and rejection of a bid for 568 new employes.

Justice Department: $278,220,180, a cut of $2,679,820.

Federal courts: $49,800,045, a reduction of $2,701,920.

U.S. Information Agency: $116,988,980, a cut of $6,804,200 including denial of funds for 126 new jobs.

President's special international program: $6,935,848, a cut of $1,664,152.

Civil Rights Commission: $850,000, a reduction of $145,000.

Kremlin Rejects Bonn Note Attacking Mr. K

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Kremlin has rejected a West German note protesting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's attacks during his French tour on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his government.

A spokesman for the Bonn Foreign Office told a news conference today the Soviet Union had refused to accept the note, claiming it was defamatory.

The Bonn government made the note public on delivering it in Moscow on Wednesday. It accused Khrushchev of waging a campaign of slander against the West German government and people during the Soviet leader's recent visit to France.

Gunman Escapes With $70 In Industry Holdup

Tri-state police were on the lookout today for a bandit pair who got between $70 and $80 in a holdup about 7:45 a. m. at the Craft service station at Industry.

Police Chief E. J. Hineman said one of the men, with a gun, entered the station and warned Lyle Craft, son of the owner, "we want your money," then emptied the cash register.

The accomplice waited in a car described as a dirty, muddy, dark blue 1951 or 1952 Ford sedan. They fled on Route 68 towards East Liverpool. The bandit carried a gun but did not point it directly at Craft, who was alone.

The Industry chief allerted state and county officers and departments in the district.

The station is operated by Clarence E. (Red) Craft.

But the calm that prevailed over the nation was uneasy.

Breaking into a play, the South African Broadcasting Corp. Thursday night read a long list of reservists and ordered them to report for duty immediately.

With most of their leaders jailed the Negroes so far accepted with outward docility the revival of the pass law, which was suspended temporarily after a Bloody demonstration March 21.

Police and troops met no resistance in a raid Thursday on the big African township of Nyanga, near Cape Town, which has been a hard core of defiance. About 25,000 Negroes lived in the township.

Two Crippled Planes Make Safe Landings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A C124 Globemaster bounced safely into Hamilton Air Force Base, 20 miles north of here, Thursday night—"on about an engine and a half."

Less than 30 minutes later, another huge Military Air Transport Service plane, a C121 Constellation, landed at Travis Air Force Base, across the bay, with one of its four engines out. Both planes were inbound from Hawaii.

The Globemaster, a four-engine craft, carried 11 crewmen. The Constellation carried 84 passengers and crew.

It's not uncommon for the big planes to continue safely to their destination with one engine gone. But the boys in the control towers had their fingers crossed as they talked the Globemaster home.

Capt James R. Kolb, the Globemaster pilot, jettisoned 14 tons of cargo and asked for help.

House Group Rejects Ike's Fund Request

President Sought Money To Hire 694 In 2 Departments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today rejected President Eisenhower's request for funds to hire 694 more employes in the State Department and the U. S. Information Agency.

In approving a $676,579,807 bill financing the two agencies along with the Justice Department and judiciary for the year starting July 1, the committee cut $37,223,948 from the President's initial requests.

However, the reduction still leaves the agencies with $14,563,161 more than they were given last year in a comparable bill.

The committees recommendations were allotted this way:

State Department: $223,784,754, a cut of $23,228,856 from presidential requests and rejection of a bid for 568 new employes.

Justice Department: $278,220,180, a cut of $2,679,820.

Federal courts: $49,800,045, a reduction of $2,701,920.

U.S. Information Agency: $116,988,980, a cut of $6,804,200 including denial of funds for 126 new jobs.

President's special international program: $6,935,848, a cut of $1,664,152.

Civil Rights Commission: $850,000, a reduction of $145,000.

City Delegates Await Union's Wage Meeting

Committee Of IBOP To Confer On Talks With Management

Twenty-nine delegates will represent 21 East Liverpool local unions when the Generalware Wage policy Committee of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters convenes Thursday morning at 10 in Cincinnati to lay plans for new contract negotiations with manufacturers.

Proposals drafted by the committee will be presented to the labor committee of the U. S. Potters Association to open the way for negotiations over a new working agreement to replace the present contract, which expires Dec. 1. The present agreement was signed May 8, ending a 23-day strike.

It is the third year the wage policy committee has drafted propositions and negotiated with manufacturers. Its formation was authorized at the IBOP's annual convention in Miami Beach in 1955. Previously, contract demands were worked out by delegates at the annual international convention.

E. L. Wheatley, president, will preside at the policy committee's meetings. All other members of the 12-man Executive Board are expected to attend except George Pace of Huntington Park, Calif., second vice president, who is ill.

The local union delegates are employed in generalware and chinaware plants which are covered by the IBOP-USPA agreement. The union has separate contracts with some chinaware manufacturers which also expire Dec. 1.

The policy committee will meet at the Netherlands Plaza Hotel. The IBOP gave no indication of the expected duration, but said the committee will remain in session daily until its work has been completed.

The local union representatives from East Liverpool will be:

Gunman Escapes With $70 In Industry Holdup

Tri-state police were on the lookout today for a bandit pair who got between $70 and $80 in a holdup about 7:45 a. m. at the Craft service station at Industry.

Police Chief E. J. Hineman said one of the men, with a gun, entered the station and warned Lyle Craft, son of the owner, "we want your money," then emptied the cash register.

The accomplice waited in a car described as a dirty, muddy, dark blue 1951 or 1952 Ford sedan. They fled on Route 68 towards East Liverpool. The bandit carried a gun but did not point it directly at Craft, who was alone.

The Industry chief allerted state and county officers and departments in the district.

The station is operated by Clarence E. (Red) Craft.

Woman Plans To Fight Charge On Dog License

Charged with failing to obtain a 1960 license for her dog and allowing it to run at large, Mrs. Anna Lovejoy of Price St. Ext. told Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today she needs time to engage counsel to fight the case.

The court continued Mrs. Lovejoy's hearing until Tuesday at 9 a. m. Charges were filed against her Wednesday by H. J. McCall, county dog warden.

The judge dismissed a similar charge today against Mrs. Harriett E. Cowan, also of Price St. Ext., after the defendant said she will obtain a new license for her dog.

Officials Express Concern

Flood Fighters Hopeful; Keep Eye On Weak Dikes

By The Associated Press

Weary flood fighters kept a sharp eye on weakened dikes along the surging Mississippi and Missouri rivers today and appeared more hopeful than they have been in days.

However, officials expressed concern of possible break-throughs in some of the earthen dikes, which have been pounded by the swollen rivers for more than a week in areas from Quincy, Ill., into the Hannibal, Mo., district.

The Mississippi dropped steadily north of Quincy but downstream the crest was yet to come and workers bolstered the soggy flood walls on the Illinois and Missouri sides of the big river.

The only major levee break on the Illinois side was near Meyer, Ill., north of Quincy earlier this week. The break, which resulted in flooding of some 30,000 acres of fertile farm land, eased some of the pressure on levees on the Missouri side.

Downstream at Hannibal, Mo., basements of about 50 business establishments were flooded for the second time in a week Thursday but the crest is believed to have passed.

Flood waters spilled over about 10,000 acres of farm land in Pike County, Mo., north of St. Louis but officials said the situation appeared under control.

No serious damage was expected in the St. Louis area as the flood crest rushed toward the big city. The Mississippi is expected to crest at 34½ feet but 38 feet is regarded as the danger mark.

The Missouri appears to have eased in the area near St. Charles, Mo., where the Missouri empties into the Mississippi. Officials in St. Charles said, "We've got it under control."

The floods along the two big rivers in the last two weeks have caused an estimated 18 million dollars damage.

Rotary's Tag Day Nets $434

Joseph Jonas, area chairman, reported at the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday evening that $434.69 was collected in a Tag Day Tuesday for the fund drive of the Beaver County Society for crippled Children and Adults.

The event was conducted by Lincoln High School students and the Hi-Spot Youth Center with Mrs. William Spisak, director, in charge.

The sale by students, who were released from study halls by Principal William A. Walters, exceeded the $333 collected last year. Some 1,750 lapel emblems were distributed on Midland Ave., Mrs. Spisak said.

the Midwest office of the U.S. Army Engineers, said flood damage along the Mississippi and its tributaries was estimated at nine million dollars. His estimate came after a survey in Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, and Iowa. Earlier damage along the Missouri River had been estimated at nine million.

The Red Cross has estimated the floods in the Midwest have effected some 31,000 persons and have inundated more than a million acres of land.

The worst of the flooding in the eastern part of the country appeared over. The Connecticut River, one of the biggest trouble makers, fell slowly from its highest crest in years after spilling over lowlands and forcing residents from their homes and businesses. The river was receding at all points from Middletown, Conn., northward into Vermont and New Hampshire.

Revolutionary Process In Art Casting Bared

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A process that may revolutionize the casting of metal for art has been developed by Alfred Duca, a professional artist and a research associate in the Department of Metallurgy at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

According to the M. I. T. Observer it is the "first real innovation in the ancient art in 5,000 years."

To demonstrate the process, Duca carved foamed polystyrene, a light weight plastic that looks like snow, into the form of a winged Pegasus. This he buried in a sand mould. Then molten bronze was poured into the mould. There was an eruption of smoke and blinding light as the metal vaporized the plastic and replaced it.

Not only is this method far easier and cheaper than conventional ones, Duca says, but it preserves the "organic vitality" of the work of art, because the original carving actually turns into metal.

Poison Gas From World War I 'Big Gun' In Fighting Cancer

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—A poison gas from World War I is becoming a big gun in the modern war against cancer.

It has helped patients suffering from cancers of the lung, breast and colon.

The gas is nitrogen mustard, an agent that attacks and destroys white cells in the blood. It has shown promising results in temporarily prolonging the lives of some sufferers from leukemia, a cancer-like disease of the blood marked by an overproduction of white cells.

Researchers have sought to extend use of the substance to prolong life and ease pain in patients with solid tumors, cancers that attack the various internal organs of the body.

Nitrogen mustard acts against solid tumors by combining or cross-linking with components of their cells. This interferes with their normal function and prevents them from dividing. Cancer cells are affected more than normal cells because they are more sensitive to substances that stop growth.

The principal drawback has been unpleasant side reactions—nausea and other symptoms that have forced a halt in such treatment after a few days or weeks.

In an effort to overcome this obstacle and find more potent cancer-repressint agents, researchers have tried more than a score of derivatives of mustard gas. One of these showing promise is cytoxan.

Four researchers from the Duke University Medical Center at Durham, N.C., described today the results of cytoxan treatment on 120 patients suffering from a wide variety of cancers. They are Dr. R. W. Rundles, Dr. T. E. Fulmer, Dr. T. W. Gore and Dr. A. Opalinsk.

In a report to the American Assn. for Cancer Research, they said the tumor-depressing efforts of cytoxan appeared comparable to other mustard compounds in treatment of chronic leukemias and other forms of cancer, including ovarian carcinoma.

The researchers said, however, that the problem of unpleasant reactions still remains, and that some patients could tolerate treatment only a week or two.

Chamber For American Astronauts Being Built

UNION, N. J. (AP) — A pressure chamber under construction here will permit American astronauts to climb 225,000 feet, dive at speeds up to 50,000 feet a minute or emergency speeds of up to 37,500 feet a second—and never leave the ground.

The chamber, being built by Tenney Engineering, Inc., for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will simulate conditions so that the astronaut and his space vehicle will function as if they had been hurled into the stratosphere.

When completed, the chamber will be shipped to Cape Canaveral, Fla., to be used in testing the Project Mercury capsule — the vehicle in which the first space traveler is scheduled to be launched.

Court To Disburse $3,000 To Pay On City Trusteeships

Making the first distribution of trusteeship funds since July 1959, Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon of Municipal Court will mail checks totaling $3,000 this afternoon, representing money collected for creditors in 6 cases.

Under the trusteeship law, the court collects regular payments from the debtors and holds it until at least 25 per cent of the account is paid before making a distribution. When a quarter of the total debt has been satisfied, the distribution is made on a pro rata basis to all the creditors named in the trusteeship petition.

The largest single payment in today's distribution is more than $400 to City Hospital. Most of the funds being distributed today have been collected since Jan. 1, Harmon said.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff instituted a policy of requiring the applicants to pay regularly the amounts required by law or face the possibility their trusteeships would be dismissed. Dismissal of the trusteeship throws the way open to a wage attachment.

Poison Gas From World War I 'Big Gun' In Fighting Cancer

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—A poison gas from World War I is becoming a big gun in the modern war against cancer.

It has helped patients suffering from cancers of the lung, breast and colon.

The gas is nitrogen mustard, an agent that attacks and destroys white cells in the blood. It has shown promising results in temporarily prolonging the lives of some sufferers from leukemia, a cancer-like disease of the blood marked by an overproduction of white cells.

Researchers have sought to extend use of the substance to prolong life and ease pain in patients with solid tumors, cancers that attack the various internal organs of the body.

Nitrogen mustard acts against solid tumors by combining or cross-linking with components of their cells. This interferes with their normal function and prevents them from dividing. Cancer cells are affected more than normal cells because they are more sensitive to substances that stop growth.

The principal drawback has been unpleasant side reactions—nausea and other symptoms that have forced a halt in such treatment after a few days or weeks.

In an effort to overcome this obstacle and find more potent cancer-repressint agents, researchers have tried more than a score of derivatives of mustard gas. One of these showing promise is cytoxan.

Four researchers from the Duke University Medical Center at Durham, N.C., described today the results of cytoxan treatment on 120 patients suffering from a wide variety of cancers. They are Dr. R. W. Rundles, Dr. T. E. Fulmer, Dr. T. W. Gore and Dr. A. Opalinsk.

In a report to the American Assn. for Cancer Research, they said the tumor-depressing efforts of cytoxan appeared comparable to other mustard compounds in treatment of chronic leukemias and other forms of cancer, including ovarian carcinoma.

The researchers said, however, that the problem of unpleasant reactions still remains, and that some patients could tolerate treatment only a week or two.

Salem Youth Held

LISBON — A 15-year-old Salem youth was turned over to the County Welfare Department Thursday after a hearing before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin. The boy took the car of Ruth Ann Altenhof of Salem R. D. Tuesday night from the Salem Central Clinic and jumped from it while being chased by Salem police. The youth was arrested later in an all-night restaurant. The car ran over the curb and hit the home of Dr. S. M. Moore.

Rotary's Tag Day Nets $434

Joseph Jonas, area chairman, reported at the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday evening that $434.69 was collected in a Tag Day Tuesday for the fund drive of the Beaver County Society for crippled Children and Adults.

The event was conducted by Lincoln High School students and the Hi-Spot Youth Center with Mrs. William Spisak, director, in charge.

The sale by students, who were released from study halls by Principal William A. Walters, exceeded the $333 collected last year. Some 1,750 lapel emblems were distributed on Midland Ave., Mrs. Spisak said.

Further events in the fund raising campaign, which the club sponsors, includes a "Bunny Hop" parade Saturday evening and a house-to-house canvass and lily sale Sunday by members of the Rainbow Girls.

Leroy Turner of Midland, vice chairman of the Ft. McIntosh Boy Scout District, was speaker and was introduced by Raymond Stowitzky.

Turner told of the three phases of scouting in Midland, including Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers. He said adult participation is necessary in the scouting program. James Migliore was program chairman.

Homer Paul, president, announced that a piano has been donated to the club by Mrs. Joseph Mullen.

There will be no program at next week's meeting at the New Riviera Restaurant so that members may attend Holy Thursday services.

Chamber For American Astronauts Being Built

UNION, N. J. (AP) — A pressure chamber under construction here will permit American astronauts to climb 225,000 feet, dive at speeds up to 50,000 feet a minute or emergency speeds of up to 37,500 feet a second—and never leave the ground.

The chamber, being built by Tenney Engineering, Inc., for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will simulate conditions so that the astronaut and his space vehicle will function as if they had been hurled into the stratosphere.

When completed, the chamber will be shipped to Cape Canaveral, Fla., to be used in testing the Project Mercury capsule — the vehicle in which the first space traveler is scheduled to be launched.

the Midwest office of the U.S. Army Engineers, said flood damage along the Mississippi and its tributaries was estimated at nine million dollars. His estimate came after a survey in Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, and Iowa. Earlier damage along the Missouri River had been estimated at nine million.

The Red Cross has estimated the floods in the Midwest have effected some 31,000 persons and have inundated more than a million acres of land.

The worst of the flooding in the eastern part of the country appeared over. The Connecticut River, one of the biggest trouble makers, fell slowly from its highest crest in years after spilling over lowlands and forcing residents from their homes and businesses. The river was receding at all points from Middletown, Conn., northward into Vermont and New Hampshire.

Court To Disburse $3,000 To Pay On City Trusteeships

Making the first distribution of trusteeship funds since July 1959, Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon of Municipal Court will mail checks totaling $3,000 this afternoon, representing money collected for creditors in 6 cases.

Under the trusteeship law, the court collects regular payments from the debtors and holds it until at least 25 per cent of the account is paid before making a distribution. When a quarter of the total debt has been satisfied, the distribution is made on a pro rata basis to all the creditors named in the trusteeship petition.

The largest single payment in today's distribution is more than $400 to City Hospital. Most of the funds being distributed today have been collected since Jan. 1, Harmon said.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff instituted a policy of requiring the applicants to pay regularly the amounts required by law or face the possibility their trusteeships would be dismissed. Dismissal of the trusteeship throws the way open to a wage attachment.

Revolutionary Process In Art Casting Bared

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A process that may revolutionize the casting of metal for art has been developed by Alfred Duca, a professional artist and a research associate in the Department of Metallurgy at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

According to the M. I. T. Observer it is the "first real innovation in the ancient art in 5,000 years."

To demonstrate the process, Duca carved foamed polystyrene, a light weight plastic that looks like snow, into the form of a winged Pegasus. This he buried in a sand mould. Then molten bronze was poured into the mould. There was an eruption of smoke and blinding light as the metal vaporized the plastic and replaced it.

Not only is this method far easier and cheaper than conventional ones, Duca says, but it preserves the "organic vitality" of the work of art, because the original carving actually turns into metal.

DeGaulle Proves His Point

It is a long leap through thin air from De Gaulle in France to the two-party system of politics in the United States.

But there is such a thing in politics as shared experience, and what Frenchmen and their friends are learning about the man who was called on to save France from political ruin will be known to politicians everywhere for generations to come.

Charles de Gaulle set out to prove something. He is now at the peak of his great experiment. He has just finished a visit of state to Great Britain. He will visit the United States later this month.

EVERY HEAD OF STATE respects the man who transformed France from confusion to order and infused it with a sense of national purpose. After years of being unable to tell one French politician from another, because they all looked the same and sounded the same, millions of people on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean now recognize De Gaulle on sight as the symbol of a reconstituted France. It has been a remarkable transformation.

And the cause of it all was one man with an idea about government so old that it became new again.

The idea was that a leader of a government should take a strong position, hold it, publish his views repeatedly and either make the people come to him or renounce any ambition of being their leader.

This is the opposite of the idea popular in the United States that a leader should find out through public opinion pollsters which way the public seems to be moving, then run in the same direction to create the illusion he is leading what he actually is following.

CHARLES DE GAULLE would be a gross misfit in U.S. politics. He would not be understood. He would not understand. But Americans can understand the difference between public figures who make converts to their points of view and public figures who become converted to whatever point of view their pollsters tell them the public seems ready to take. In view of the unreliability of pollsters and public confusion over the absence of any fixed sense of direction, this is harder and harder to do.

When the President of France comes here later this month, his presence will be a reminder that some of the newest ideas in politics are old ideas that had fallen into misuse.

Who Goes There, Senior Citizen?

In the latest ruckus that has flared up over proposals for helping us to take care of the problems of existence, all parties in contention are throwing around a phrase as if they knew exactly what it meant.

"Senior citizens," they are saying, must be given this or that benefit or must not be given this or that benefit, depending on their point of view.

This is some of the loosest language since Franklin D. Roosevelt set the country on its ear by declaring that one-third of the nation was "ill-fed, ill-clothed and ill-housed."

What happened thereafter may have a lesson in it for some of the people talking about "senior citizens." In a matter of a few days, about 80 per cent of the people in the United States, having looked at what was on the table, the clothes they were wearing and the places they were living had come to the conclusion Mr. Roosevelt must have been talking about them.

It never was established whom he really was talking about, because of this confusion. The upshot of that fiasco in phrase-making was a consensus that one-third of the nation was not as well-fed, as well-clothed and as well-housed as the other two-thirds but in the absence of definition it could not be said that all of them needed help.

"Senior citizens." Who are they? When do they quit being junior citizens and become seniors? What basis is there for the supposition they must be helped in such and such a way? Has anyone asked them what they want? Are the voices crying out in Washington in their behalf representative of their points of view?

Just to get the discussion off on the right foot—and many think it will be the political bell-ringer of 1960—how about stopping every discusser the instant he refers to "senior citizens" and asking him to define the phrase.

Here's a bottle of tonic for rundown constitutions against the latest think-piece on geriatrics that the challenger and the speaker will not have the same thing in mind. And here's the tonic bottle with one snort removed that the speaker will be thinking about getting two things—votes and money—and the challenger will be thinking about getting only one thing from him—money.

Progress In Safety

Columbiana County industrial concerns could hold their heads higher than ever safety - wise today after Thursday night's annual awards banquet at Salem.

The 70 awards presented — the highest number yet at such a meeting — reflected their combined efforts in the never - ending war on accidents during working hours.

And, as Michael Schuller, chairman of the county Industrial Safety Committee, pointed out the record attendance of more than 300 indicated quite clearly that the interest and the desire is there for even greater progress.

The county as a whole and those directly in charge are to be commended for an energetic, comprehensive program in a most important field of industrial relations.

And from our end of the county, a special salute to the East Liverpool and Wellsville companies who helped add to the outstanding record.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Bob Moses, famed New York park commissioner and superbuilder, has taken the job to run next World Fair at $100,000 a year. (Where could you get so much explosiveness, gusto and color for twice the money)? He will start functioning as soon as he puts on makeup as a combination of Hercules and Aladdin. Seismographs should begin recording the disturbance soon.

Mr. Moses is no booster of midway touch and was a critic of the aquacade and bathing beauties in the last exposition. But our hunch is that he may weaken. We just learned that he was once a big university swimming star and a president of the University Swimming Association of the U.S. Once a swimmer, always a swimmer.

When on the college swim team he came to New York to take part in the dedication of a public pool, hard by the East River. Hot or cold in its waters, he didn't foresee a day when he would be head man of a world fair not many miles across the river.

He once fought Billy Rose's ideas and declared, "I don't pretend to know how to stage a girlie water show, although the lasses I see on the beaches look better to me than Billy's mermaids."

Nevertheless the betting is on a swimming show at the coming fair, with a Moses touch, after blistering exchange of letters.

Mr. Moses may settle for a tank built in the shape of a "Y," a water drill that spells "Yale" and a firm stand for the band playing "Boola Boola" instead of Broadway tunes.

Will the midway attractions get the green light? Mr. Moses was their foe at the previous exposition declaring the site was "not built for Mike Todd or Billy Rose." But a world fair without a midway would be no bargain to customers. "Little Egypt," "The Oriental Mystery Girl" and the "Bali Bali Muscle Dancer" will have to battle Mr. Moses.

He is a fighter but no "great shakes" against such gals. We await the correspondence between him and midway cuties. It should be plenty hot, with the midway dancers benefitting through "new twists," dependent on anatomy over penmanship, temperament and logic.

Odd Facts

"Character" toys or personality novelties bearing the names of famous entertainment or sports luminaries have become a multi-million-dollar business in the U. S. One toy executive estimates that at least 10 per cent of the $1.2 billion spent on toys last year were items bearing famous personalities' names. For the use of their names on these goods, the person or the company owning the rights to the name, receives royalties ranging from three to five per cent of the retail price.

The Man Who Came To Dinner

Meyner Fails To Win Labor Nod

By Victor Riesel

A rare species was discovered in Detroit the other day by hunters in the big political game. They found a man who to his ownself is true. He let a powerful Democratic parley there know that he was willing to run for vice president. He is New Jersey's Gov. Robert Meyner and he was promoting a Lyndon Johnson-Bob Meyner ticket.

Victor Riesel

There is much respect for the clean-cut governor. But Democratic chiefs found him light in the one area where the front men want weight—labor.

For that's what each of the potential candidates now seeks — powerful labor support. They need the manpower, the finances, the smooth precinct organization and the packaged television propaganda which already is being aired.

TYPICAL of such pictorial promotions is the expert half-hour TV film, "You Belong in Politics."

It was recently released by the United Auto Workers Union, which Walter Reuther leads. It urges the citizenry to be active in this campaign.

It is nonpartisan. But there is no margin for error in reporting that those who see it under its producers' label will not guess long in whose behalf they should be active.

All this machinery, however, is not nearly as important as the estimated 250 votes which will be cast by the labor leaders themselves at the Democratic national convention. This bloc of votes could well be the balance of power at the nominating convention.

Last February in their midwinter meeting in Bal Harbour, near Miami Beach, the national union chiefs counted their strength at the coming convention.

AFL-CIO President George Meany then called a closed meeting of the most influential politicos inside labor. This group is the administrative committee of the Committee on Political Education COPE.

THEY DECIDED that the best strategy was to remain strongly united and more strongly silent. They decided not to endorse any aspirant until after that aspirin-laden hour when the Democrats named a candidate for the presidency of the U.S. — and came to the labor leaders asking for backing.

They dispatched word to their central bodies not to endorse any man. Then they administered their other business, went home — and began to back their favorite candidate.

It was all sotto voce until Thursday, March 31. That day many of the labor chiefs gathered at a new building near the Capitol.

The influential Railway Brotherhoods dedicated it in the presence, among others, of Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson, House Leader Sam Rayburn and the official envoy of the Republicans, Jim Mitchell, now hailed as the best secretary of labor labor has had.

AFTER THE SPEECHES, the political leaders rushed back to their offices. There was a social in what will be the big conference room of the Railway Labor Executives Assn. Building.

In walked one of the most prominent of the Rail Brotherhood's chiefs. He was George Harrison, leader of the 300,000-member Railway Clerks Union, member of the Democratic National Committee Advisory Council and chairman of the Labor Advisory Division.

With him was the genial Sen. Stuart Symington. Harrison introduced Symington as the man most likely to succeed in getting the Democratic nomination.

Surprises are the big thing this season. Harrison had said not too many months ago that he would take a walk away from the Democratic party because of the passage of the Landrum-Griffin Act. Now he was walking right back into it with Symington—who was cordially received by all present.

And all present make up the most powerful and experienced labor political action group in the land.

Thus, while labor's other favorites, John Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey, were battering each other in Wisconsin, Sen. Symington had walked off with some of the most influential labor political strategists. These men will have the votes where it counts—at the Democratic national convention.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Mrs. Santora stopped by to talk with your aunt and me this afternoon. Her boy Angie is a senior and the Santoras want him to go to college.

If you're groping for the name, Mrs. Santora is Susan Davis. She's almost as pretty as she was when you thought she was the prettiest thing this side of the Great Divide.

She says Angie, whom we remember as a bright-eyed little boy in the car with his mother and father when we used to see them around town, is a good boy — passing fair as a student, a pretty good football player and popular with his fellow students. She says she and her husband would like to have him be a doctor.

I'm afraid your aunt and I didn't help her. Our conversation did leave us wondering about some things in connection with the Santora problem, let's call it.

We know a dozen families who are thinking how good it would be if their sons became doctors. It is a contemporary fad in family aspirations, the way it used to be when families wanted their sons to be lawyers and, before that, ministers.

There's another fad about scientists, but that one is harder to pin down, because there are so many kinds of scientists. Doctoring is a specific, clean-cut goal.

The fact is, though, that only a fraction of the boys whose families want them to be doctors are going to wind up with medical school diplomas.

We went easy with Mrs. Santora about that. We talked about going to college and let the doctor part out of it. We suggested it might be better to wait until he had gone to college before settling on a career.

We could wish for the boy's sake and for his parents' sake that they would think about the possibility he might be an electrician, salesman, forester, or an appliance repairman, like his father. For all we know, he might be better fitted to be a schoolteacher, minister, architect, or a dress designer.

And for all we know, he may have no particular aptitude to be anything but will turn out to be one of millions who will settle for whatever is available. Most of this world's work is being done by people who had nothing particular in mind when they went job-hunting.

Maybe I've outlived my time and this isn't the way it's going to be any more. But it doesn't make sense that everybody can look into the future and see precisely what niche he is going to occupy. Some would-be doctors are going to be plumbers, carpenters, technicians, telephone installers and TV repairmen.

It wouldn't make sense, would it, if this turned into a society of doctors and nurses, with a scattering of scientists — and no one to run the store and produce the wealth. So why did Mrs. Santora come to talk to us, you are wondering.

She remembers that when she didn't go on to college but stayed home you did go to college and she wanted to know how we managed it. On that point, we were blunt. We told her it was because colleges in those days would take any applicant who was breathing and could meet the payments. You didn't have to be smart to get in and you didn't have to be smart to stay in. It's still pretty much that way today, but the competition is getting tougher. We tried to convey this tactfully to Mrs. Santora, whose pride and joy, Angie, is a nice boy but only passing fair as a student and who probably should be dreaming about throwing in his lot with his old man, instead of wearing a stethoscope. Fact is, I suspect only Mrs. Santora is dreaming about that, while 1her pride and joy is dreaming about the sugar pie who gave him a friendly smile at the drinking fountain yesterday. Regards.

Warning From Wisconsin

By David Lawrence

GOP Should Attract Conservative Democrats

There used to be a saying among Republicans that, "As Maine goes, so goes the nation." Now the Democrats have paraphrased it, and some of them are saying: "As Wisconsin goes, so goes the nation."

David Lawrence

But there's a vast difference between what a state's voters do in a primary and what they do in a presidential election. In all, one million persons eligible to vote did not vote in the primary in Wisconsin this week.

For one thing, voters go to the polls in a primary when there's a contest in their own party and they stay at home when there is no particular object in voting for someone who is virtually nominated already.

But the Republicans will have to admit that they got a warning signal in Wisconsin. Unless they do bring their supporters to the polls next November — indeed, unless all citizens who profess to be Republicans do vote — then Wisconsin's total of more than 850,000 Democratic votes as compared to the Nixon vote of less than half that number will prove to have been truly significant.

Only 3½ years ago, in the 1956 election, President Eisenhower got 954,844 votes and the Democrats polled 586,768 votes in Wisconsin.

In Tuesday's primary, the Democrats ran up a total of more than 850,000, which is around 265,000 above their 1956 vote for Stevenson.

THE QUESTION is what will the 600,000 or more persons who in 1956 voted Republican but didn't vote in the Republican primary this week do in November?

If they all go to the polls, they can win the state's electoral vote for the Republican nominee.

So the real question is not whether the Democrats have run up a big vote as primaries go but whether the Republican apathy is based on lack of interest in a one-sided race in their own party or something far more fundamental.

The truth is that the Republican party has been torn between two factions — the star-gazing "liberals" who preach the doctrine that money grows on trees and that "welfare" appropriations can be voted in vast sums and nothing serious will happen to the economy, whereas the sound liberals and conservatives believe the federal government must dispense with luxuries whenever there is danger of an unbalanced budget or a system of tax rates that tend to destroy individual incentive.

The coming presidential campaign is going to be fought to some extent on personalities but basically it will be a battle between those who want to assure a sound economic future for America and those who are indifferent to the risks of unlimited federal spending.

The religious issue has gotten a good deal of public attention in connection with the Wisconsin primary but this is a local matter. It may affect those states which have large numbers of citizens who are influenced by the controversy over the alleged impact of a man's religion on his public acts but by and large the issue is not enough of a factor to cause one side or the other to gain materially by it across the whole country.

In 1928, for instance, when Al Smith, a Catholic, was defeated, it is doubtful if any other Democrat could have won as against the prosperity factor that so substantially benefited Herbert Hoover's chances.

In 1932 any Democrat could have won, irrespective of religion, for the country was voting against the Hoover administration.

THE COMING ELECTION will be based on a vote of confidence or lack of confidence in the Eisenhower policies. There are those who urge Mr. Nixon to embrace the so-called "liberal" line but they ignore the fact that the real reason the Republican vote fell off in 1958 was that many of the conservative Republicans stayed at home.

The Republicans have a chance to win the 1960 election by pursuing sound policies instead of will-o'-the-wisp theories. For the country is overwhelmingly conservative today, and the chance of bringing to the Republican nominee the Democrats who want a sound conservatism is far better than of attracting to the Republican standard the so-called "liberals" who are often classed as "independents." An "independent" isn't necessarily of a particular ideology. He merely reserves the right to switch from one party to the other as he judges its performance and its promises.

The Republicans don't have to examine the results of the voting in Wisconsin to realize that for the last few years they have been up against an apathetic attitude among their conservative followers and that they had better try to persuade more Republican and Democratic conservatives to go to the polls.

This is wiser strategy than succumbing to the wiles of the so-called "liberals."

While the latter constantly urge Vice President Nixon to turn to the left, these tactics really mean planting the seeds of further dissension and division inside the Republican party.

The Wisconsin primary, by all the rules of politics, should mean that Sen. Kennedy will be regarded as the front-runner from now on. This means that the other candidates will tend to combine against him.

THERE ARE other primary contests, to be sure, but Sen. Kennedy will gain ground in all of them, as he has the organization and the finances back of him to win the necessary delegate strength.

At this moment it is doubtful whether a "Stop Kennedy" movement will succeed. If it does, it will insure the election of the Republican presidential nominee next fall for, whether right or wrong, many Kennedy supporters will be convinced that, if he is turned down by the Democratic National Convention, it will be because of his religion.

So the chances are that in the end Kennedy will wind up at the top of his ticket. It didn't need the Wisconsin primary to emphasize that prospect.

Moving, Not Sitting, Ducks

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Navy — apostle of the moving duck theory as against the sitting duck — would like to be this country's first line of defense. It may never be, but it's making progress.

Since World War II the seagoing arm of national defense has been overshadowed by the development of the fast, long-range bomber and the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

Even the worth of the aircraft carriers, with their short-range planes, looked questionable.

Then the Navy began development of an atomic-powered submarine capable of firing the Polaris missile, with a nuclear warhead, 1,200 miles. In time it hopes to have 45 such subs. It has only two afloat now. None will be in operation till fall.

This week President Eisenhower approved stepping up the production rate. In three years the Navy may have 21 of these submarines which can stay out of sight of an enemy, slip close to a continent, and start firing.

Each Polaris sub can fire 16 missiles.

The Navy's big pitch for the Polaris-missile submarine can be summed up this:

An enemy would know the launching sites of this country's ICBMs and its shorter range missiles abroad because they'd be on fixed platforms, immovable. They'd then be sitting ducks for enemy missiles turned loose in a surprise attack.

But the Polaris submarines are like moving ducks whose locations would be unknown to an enemy and—in case an enemy began a missile attack on this country—could fire their own 1,200-mile range missiles against any enemy target.

And they'd be out of sight while they did it.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, has argued that if a nuclear war started—since all the destruction would be on land on both continents—the Navy, not a stationary target, would be the only defense line left.

But Burke doesn't sell the aircraft carrier short, either, and naturally, since he's an admiral. No matter what anyone else thinks of the future role of carriers, the Navy brass is high on them.

But there's a difference between the use of a carrier and the use of a Polaris submarine. The former would be at its best in a limited war, such as around Formosa. The Polaris-submarine missile would be mainly for all-out nuclear war.

Burke has spoken out a number of times on the two subjects:

"As long as you need manned aircraft for any type of warfare, you'll need carriers. And you'll need manned aircraft as long as you need search and attack missions where you've got to look for your target before you strike it."

He has described the use of the Polaris sub this way:

It "is good for only one thing—to destroy cities. It's the best city destroyer in the world. It will destroy any city you want — any place, any time. That's all it's good for, though.

"It's no good for destroying a village. It's a good weapon for mass destruction. Carriers on the other hand can do mass destruction if they want to, but that is not their primary job."

DeGaulle Proves His Point

It is a long leap through thin air from De Gaulle in France to the two-party system of politics in the United States.

But there is such a thing in politics as shared experience, and what Frenchmen and their friends are learning about the man who was called on to save France from political ruin will be known to politicians everywhere for generations to come.

Charles de Gaulle set out to prove something. He is now at the peak of his great experiment. He has just finished a visit of state to Great Britain. He will visit the United States later this month.

EVERY HEAD OF STATE respects the man who transformed France from confusion to order and infused it with a sense of national purpose. After years of being unable to tell one French politician from another, because they all looked the same and sounded the same, millions of people on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean now recognize De Gaulle on sight as the symbol of a reconstituted France. It has been a remarkable transformation.

And the cause of it all was one man with an idea about government so old that it became new again.

The idea was that a leader of a government should take a strong position, hold it, publish his views repeatedly and either make the people come to him or renounce any ambition of being their leader.

This is the opposite of the idea popular in the United States that a leader should find out through public opinion pollsters which way the public seems to be moving, then run in the same direction to create the illusion he is leading what he actually is following.

CHARLES DE GAULLE would be a gross misfit in U.S. politics. He would not be understood. He would not understand. But Americans can understand the difference between public figures who make converts to their points of view and public figures who become converted to whatever point of view their pollsters tell them the public seems ready to take. In view of the unreliability of pollsters and public confusion over the absence of any fixed sense of direction, this is harder and harder to do.

When the President of France comes here later this month, his presence will be a reminder that some of the newest ideas in politics are old ideas that had fallen into misuse.

Who Goes There, Senior Citizen?

In the latest ruckus that has flared up over proposals for helping us to take care of the problems of existence, all parties in contention are throwing around a phrase as if they knew exactly what it meant.

"Senior citizens," they are saying, must be given this or that benefit or must not be given this or that benefit, depending on their point of view.

This is some of the loosest language since Franklin D. Roosevelt set the country on its ear by declaring that one-third of the nation was "ill-fed, ill-clothed and ill-housed."

What happened thereafter may have a lesson in it for some of the people talking about "senior citizens." In a matter of a few days, about 80 per cent of the people in the United States, having looked at what was on the table, the clothes they were wearing and the places they were living had come to the conclusion Mr. Roosevelt must have been talking about them.

It never was established whom he really was talking about, because of this confusion. The upshot of that fiasco in phrase-making was a consensus that one-third of the nation was not as well-fed, as well-clothed and as well-housed as the other two-thirds but in the absence of definition it could not be said that all of them needed help.

"Senior citizens." Who are they? When do they quit being junior citizens and become seniors? What basis is there for the supposition they must be helped in such and such a way? Has anyone asked them what they want? Are the voices crying out in Washington in their behalf representative of their points of view?

Just to get the discussion off on the right foot—and many think it will be the political bell-ringer of 1960—how about stopping every discusser the instant he refers to "senior citizens" and asking him to define the phrase.

Here's a bottle of tonic for rundown constitutions against the latest think-piece on geriatrics that the challenger and the speaker will not have the same thing in mind. And here's the tonic bottle with one snort removed that the speaker will be thinking about getting two things—votes and money—and the challenger will be thinking about getting only one thing from him—money.

Progress In Safety

Columbiana County industrial concerns could hold their heads higher than ever safety - wise today after Thursday night's annual awards banquet at Salem.

The 70 awards presented — the highest number yet at such a meeting — reflected their combined efforts in the never - ending war on accidents during working hours.

And, as Michael Schuller, chairman of the county Industrial Safety Committee, pointed out the record attendance of more than 300 indicated quite clearly that the interest and the desire is there for even greater progress.

The county as a whole and those directly in charge are to be commended for an energetic, comprehensive program in a most important field of industrial relations.

And from our end of the county, a special salute to the East Liverpool and Wellsville companies who helped add to the outstanding record.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Bob Moses, famed New York park commissioner and superbuilder, has taken the job to run next World Fair at $100,000 a year. (Where could you get so much explosiveness, gusto and color for twice the money)? He will start functioning as soon as he puts on makeup as a combination of Hercules and Aladdin. Seismographs should begin recording the disturbance soon.

Mr. Moses is no booster of midway touch and was a critic of the aquacade and bathing beauties in the last exposition. But our hunch is that he may weaken. We just learned that he was once a big university swimming star and a president of the University Swimming Association of the U.S. Once a swimmer, always a swimmer.

When on the college swim team he came to New York to take part in the dedication of a public pool, hard by the East River. Hot or cold in its waters, he didn't foresee a day when he would be head man of a world fair not many miles across the river.

He once fought Billy Rose's ideas and declared, "I don't pretend to know how to stage a girlie water show, although the lasses I see on the beaches look better to me than Billy's mermaids."

Nevertheless the betting is on a swimming show at the coming fair, with a Moses touch, after blistering exchange of letters.

Mr. Moses may settle for a tank built in the shape of a "Y," a water drill that spells "Yale" and a firm stand for the band playing "Boola Boola" instead of Broadway tunes.

Will the midway attractions get the green light? Mr. Moses was their foe at the previous exposition declaring the site was "not built for Mike Todd or Billy Rose." But a world fair without a midway would be no bargain to customers. "Little Egypt," "The Oriental Mystery Girl" and the "Ball Bell Muscle Dancer" will have to battle Mr. Moses.

He is a fighter but no "great shakes" against such gals. We await the correspondence between him and midway cuties. It should be plenty hot, with the midway dancers benefitting through "new twists," dependent on anatomy over penmanship, temperament and logic.

"Character" toys or personality novelties bearing the names of famous entertainment or sports luminaries have become a multi-million-dollar business in the U. S. One toy executive estimates that at least 10 per cent of the $1.2 billion spent on toys last year were items bearing famous personalities' names. For the use of their names on these goods, the person or the company owning the rights to the name, receives royalties ranging from three to five per cent of the retail price.

The Man Who Came To Dinner

Meyner Fails To Win Labor Nod

By Victor Riesel

A rare species was discovered in Detroit the other day by hunters in the big political game. They found a man who to his ownself is true. He let a powerful Democratic parley there know that he was willing to run for vice president. He is New Jersey's Gov. Robert Meyner and he was promoting a Lyndon Johnson-Bob Meyner ticket.

Victor Riesel

There is much respect for the clean-cut governor. But Democratic chiefs found him light in the one area where the front men want weight—labor.

For that's what each of the potential candidates now seeks — powerful labor support. They need the manpower, the finances, the smooth precinct organization and the packaged television propaganda which already is being aired.

TYPICAL of such pictorial promotions is the expert half-hour TV film, "You Belong in Politics."

It was recently released by the United Auto Workers Union, which Walter Reuther leads. It urges the citizenry to be active in this campaign.

It is nonpartisan. But there is no margin for error in reporting that those who see it under its producers' label will not guess long in whose behalf they should be active.

All this machinery, however, is not nearly as important as the estimated 250 votes which will be cast by the labor leaders themselves at the Democratic national convention. This bloc of votes could well be the balance of power at the nominating convention.

Last February in their midwinter meeting in Bal Harbour, near Miami Beach, the national union chiefs counted their strength at the coming convention.

AFL-CIO President George Meany then called a closed meeting of the most influential politicos inside labor. This group is the administrative committee of the Committee on Political Education COPE.

THEY DECIDED that the best strategy was to remain strongly united and more strongly silent. They decided not to endorse any aspirant until after that aspirin-laden hour when the Democrats named a candidate for the presidency of the U.S. — and came to the labor leaders asking for backing.

They dispatched word to their central bodies not to endorse any man. Then they administered their other business, went home — and began to back their favorite candidate.

It was all sotto voce until Thursday, March 31. That day many of the labor chiefs gathered at a new building near the Capitol.

The influential Railway Brotherhoods dedicated it in the presence, among others, of Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson, House Leader Sam Rayburn and the official envoy of the Republicans, Jim Mitchell, now hailed as the best secretary of labor labor has had.

AFTER THE SPEECHES, the political leaders rushed back to their offices. There was a social in what will be the big conference room of the Railway Labor Executives Assn. Building.

In walked one of the most prominent of the Rail Brotherhood's chiefs. He was George Harrison, leader of the 300,000-member Railway Clerks Union, member of the Democratic National Committee Advisory Council and chairman of the Labor Advisory Division.

With him was the genial Sen. Stuart Symington. Harrison introduced Symington as the man most likely to succeed in getting the Democratic nomination.

Surprises are the big thing this season. Harrison had said not too many months ago that he would take a walk away from the Democratic party because of the passage of the Landrum-Griffin Act. Now he was walking right back into it with Symington—who was cordially received by all present.

And all present make up the most powerful and experienced labor political action group in the land.

Thus, while labor's other favorites, John Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey, were battering each other in Wisconsin, Sen. Symington had walked off with some of the most influential labor political strategists. These men will have the votes where it counts—at the Democratic national convention.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Mrs. Santora stopped by to talk with your aunt and me this afternoon. Her boy Angie is a senior and the Santoras want him to go to college.

If you're groping for the name, Mrs. Santora is Susan Davis. She's almost as pretty as she was when you thought she was the prettiest thing this side of the Great Divide.

She says Angie, whom we remember as a bright-eyed little boy in the car with his mother and father when we used to see them around town, is a good boy — passing fair as a student, a pretty good football player and popular with his fellow students. She says she and her husband would like to have him be a doctor.

I'm afraid your aunt and I didn't help her. Our conversation did leave us wondering about some things in connection with the Santora problem, let's call it.

We know a dozen families who are thinking how good it would be if their sons became doctors. It is a contemporary fad in family aspirations, the way it used to be when families wanted their sons to be lawyers and, before that, ministers.

There's another fad about scientists, but that one is harder to pin down, because there are so many kinds of scientists. Doctoring is a specific, clean-cut goal.

The fact is, though, that only a fraction of the boys whose families want them to be doctors are going to wind up with medical school diplomas.

We went easy with Mrs. Santora about that. We talked about going to college and let the doctor part out of it. We suggested it might be better to wait until he had gone to college before settling on a career.

We could wish for the boy's sake and for his parents' sake that they would think about the possibility he might be an electrician, salesman, forester, or an appliance repairman, like his father. For all we know, he might be better fitted to be a schoolteacher, minister, architect, or a dress designer.

And for all we know, he may have no particular aptitude to be anything but will turn out to be one of millions who will settle for whatever is available. Most of this world's work is being done by people who had nothing particular in mind when they went job-hunting.

Maybe I've outlived my time and this isn't the way it's going to be any more. But it doesn't make sense that everybody can look into the future and see precisely what niche he is going to occupy. Some would-be doctors are going to be plumbers, carpenters, technicians, telephone installers and TV repairmen.

It wouldn't make sense, would it, if this turned into a society of doctors and nurses, with a scattering of scientists — and no one to run the store and produce the wealth. So why did Mrs. Santora come to talk to us, you are wondering.

She remembers that when she didn't go on to college but stayed home you did go to college and she wanted to know how we managed it. On that point, we were blunt. We told her it was because colleges in those days would take any applicant who was breathing and could meet the payments. You didn't have to be smart to get in and you didn't have to be smart to stay in. It's still pretty much that way today, but the competition is getting tougher. We tried to convey this tactfully to Mrs. Santora, whose pride and joy, Angie, is a nice boy but only passing fair as a student and who probably should be dreaming about throwing in his lot with his old man, instead of wearing a stethoscope. Fact is, I suspect only Mrs. Santora is dreaming about that, while her pride and joy is dreaming about the sugar pie who gave him a friendly smile at the drinking fountain yesterday. Regards.

Even the worth of the aircraft carriers, with their short-range planes, looked questionable.

Then the Navy began development of an atomic-powered submarine capable of firing the Polaris missile, with a nuclear warhead, 1,200 miles. In time it hopes to have 45 such subs. It has only two afloat now. None will be in operation till fall.

This week President Eisenhower approved stepping up the production rate. In three years the Navy may have 21 of these submarines which can stay out of sight of an enemy, slip close to a continent, and start firing.

Each Polaris sub can fire 16 missiles.

The Navy's big pitch for the Polaris-missile submarine can be summed up this:

An enemy would know the launching sites of this country's ICBMs and its shorter range missiles abroad because they'd be on fixed platforms, immovable. They'd then be sitting ducks for enemy missiles turned loose in a surprise attack.

But the Polaris submarines are like moving ducks whose locations would be unknown to an enemy and—in case an enemy began a missile attack on this country—could fire their own 1,200-mile range missiles against any enemy target.

And they'd be out of sight while they did it.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, has argued that if a nuclear war started—since all the destruction would be on land on both continents—the Navy, not a stationary target, would be the only defense line left.

But Burke doesn't sell the aircraft carrier short, either, and naturally, since he's an admiral. No matter what anyone else thinks of the future role of carriers, the Navy brass is high on them.

But there's a difference between the use of a carrier and the use of a Polaris submarine. The former would be at its best in a limited war, such as around Formosa. The Polaris-submarine missile would be mainly for all-out nuclear war.

Burke has spoken out a number of times on the two subjects:

"As long as you need manned aircraft for any type of warfare, you'll need carriers. And you'll need manned aircraft as long as you need search and attack missions where you've got to look for your target before you strike it."

He has described the use of the Polaris sub this way:

It "is good for only one thing—to destroy cities. It's the best city destroyer in the world. It will destroy any city you want — any place, any time. That's all it's good for, though.

"It's no good for destroying a village. It's a good weapon for mass destruction. Carriers on the other hand can do mass destruction if they want to, but that is not their primary job."

'Think We Have Her Beat,' Tenant Farmer Says Of Flood

GREGORY LANDING, Mo. (AP) — "I think we've got her whipped."

Clyde Campbell, spoke slowly and confidently from atop a sand levee as he stared at his old foe—the flooding Mississippi River.

Outside the rectangular sand and earth levees protecting his home, 6,000 acres of farmland were 4 to 8 feet under water.

(AP reporter Arthur Srb reached the Campbell farm by rowboat Thursday.)

Inside the dike, Campbell's own battlement against the mighty river, up to 2 feet of water glistened in low spots.

But five pumps chugged steady streams of the muddy water back over the levee into the inundated lowland.

Campbell, a husky 52-year-old tenant farmer, hired two men to help him build the levee last week when rising Mississippi flood waters first splashed into the lowland area near his home.

"When I was unable to get my corn to market because of the muddy roads, I had to do something," Campbell said resolutely.

Campbell rubbed his ham-like fist across his tired eyes and stubbly beard. And he talked of the 9,000 bushels of corn stored in a huge bin next to his one-story frame farm home.

"I believe this levee has saved most of it from moisture damage," he said.

Campbell and his wife, Margaret, are both dog tired. They have managed only brief snatches of sleep during their five-day duel with the Mississippi. Most of the time they nap in Campbell's car parked high on the levee.

A pert woman of 48, Mrs. Campbell has labored beside her determined husband throughout the anxious moments and trying days.

"We're in pretty good shape now," she added.

Some muddy river water has seeped into the house, but most of the Campbell's furniture and appliances have been out of harm's way on boxes and barrels.

Cleaning Planned For 5 Streets In Downtown Area

Continuing the spring cleaning of East Liverpool streets, city crews tonight will flush and sweep W. 5th and 6th Sts. and the intersecting streets from Jackson St. west, Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver announced.

The street department crew will use fire hoses and brooms to clear away the winter accumulation of dirt and debris, the director explained. Jackson, Jefferson and Monroe Sts. also will be cleaned, probably in the stretch between W. 6th St. and W. 4th St. The work will start at 11.

The director asked residents of the area to keep parked cars off the affected stretch as much as possible in order not to interfere with the cleaning work. The work cannot be done effectively if cars are parked near the curb, where most of the dirt is concentrated, he explained.

The crew cleaned the Diamond and sections of E. 5th and 6th Sts. and Washington St. last night. Cleaning is scheduled today on W. 7th St. and Bradshaw Ave., the director said.

3 County Men Will Graduate As Patrolmen

D. R. Woomer of East Liverpool and Dale Shingleton and W. T. McIntosh of the New Waterford area were slated to graduate today from the State Highway Patrol Training Academy at Columbus.

Woomer will be assigned to duty at Zanesville, Shingleton to the Painesville patrol and McIntosh to Hiram for the turnpike patrol.

The graduation of 35 men today marks an all-time high for the patrol's strength, Col. Scott Radcliffe, superintendent, said. The patrol's manpower is now boosted to 758, including 66 now assigned to the turnpike.

In a drive to reach the full authorized strength of 700 plus 75 for turnpike duty, the patrol has graduated 4 classes in the past 10 months.

Training will begin April 25 for another class, but there are openings for cadet dispatchers — qualified men who are 20 years old and who can work at various posts at the desk.

Census Taker Gets The Gate In Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—"The government has never done anything for me. Why should I do anything for the government?" says George Kido. And that includes answering a census takers questions.

Kido, who lives in suburban Sterling, his wife and Janet Vukovich got into a fuss this week when Mrs. Vukovich called at the Kido home to pick up a census form.

Mrs. Kido answered the door.

"I asked her (Mrs. Vukovich) to sit in the kitchen but she plunked herself down in the living room," said Mrs. Kido. "I answered some of her questions, but her attitude provoked me."

Kido became angry when Mrs. Vukovich asked him about bathroom facilities in his home, then handed him an additional census form to fill out. He escorted Mrs. Vukovich to the door and tossed the form out after her.

Mrs. Vukovich, her supervisor, Helene Zimmerman, and a state policeman want to the Kido home the following day and were ordered out. They left.

Mrs. Zimmerman said that when she told Kido he was liable to a $100 fine and 60 days in jail for not answering he told her: "Go ahead and prosecute."

The matter has been turned over to the regional census director, John Tharaldson, who says records show that in 170 years the Census Bureau hasn't had to prosecute anyone for refusing to answer questions.

LISBON — Fifty orchardmen from Columbiana and Mahoning Counties attended a sprayer clinic Thursday afternoon at the Mahoning Experiment Farms near Canfield, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Three spraying equipment manufacturers gave demonstrations.

Nixon Big Loser, Brown Claims

'No Trends,' Rockefeller Says Of Wisconsin Voting

By The Associated Press

They're still talking about the Wisconsin primary, and what it means seems to depend on which party the spokesman belongs to. Here are some late returns:

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York (Republican): "It didn't sound very decisive for anyone. I wouldn't draw any conclusions from it. I don't think any major trends can be drawn." However, the governor said in New York Thursday, the heavy Democratic vote in Wisconsin Tuesday showed "the Republicans are a minority party in terms of registration. We might as well face it."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California (Democrat): Vice President Richard M. Nixon was "the big loser." "The vice president," Brown said, "was running unopposed in his own party's primary, yet drew only 30 per cent of the total vote in a state where the Republican vote is traditionally heavy."

Adlai E. Stevenson (Democrat): "I congratulate Sen. (John F.) Kennedy (D-Mass) on his victory in Wisconsin and also Sen. (Hubert H.) Humphrey (D-Minn) on his splendid showing. The total Democratic vote in Wisconsin was another sign that the people demand a strong liberal candidate and that the Democrats are on their way to victory in November." Stevenson, who is in the West Indies, released his statement through his Chicago office.

Kennedy, who got 56 per cent of the Democratic vote and carried six of 10 congressional districts in Wisconsin, was stumping Thursday in Indiana. He cut his tour short, however, and flew to Washington in case the civil rights bill came up for a final vote in the Senate today. Kennedy hoped to return to Indiana tonight.

Humphrey planned a folksy, hand-shaking bus tour of some West Virginia coal fields today, looking toward that state's primary May 10. Again he'll be up against Kennedy, and he said, "This time it's my turn."

Rockefeller, speaking at Jamestown, N.Y., Thursday night, called for fellow Republicans to join him in a statewide crusade in support of the national ticket. But again he did not mention Nixon, the only GOP presidential candidate in sight.

Asked by newsmen whether he would reconsider heading the ticket himself, Rockefeller said, "We will cross that bridge if it comes. I do not think the opportunity is apt to come." Rockefeller reiterated he would not run for vice president "under any circumstances."

Rep. Quentin Burdick (D-ND) will run against Gov. John E. Davis for the remaining 4½ years of the late GOP Sen. William A. Langer's Senate term.

Burdick, 51, was nominated unanimously at Bismarck, N.D., by state Democrats and Nonpartisan leaders. He'll meet Republican Davis in a special election June 28.

3 County Men Will Graduate As Patrolmen

D. R. Woomer of East Liverpool and Dale Shingleton and W. T. McIntosh of the New Waterford area were slated to graduate today from the State Highway Patrol Training Academy at Columbus.

Woomer will be assigned to duty at Zanesville, Shingleton to the Painesville patrol and McIntosh to Hiram for the turnpike patrol.

The graduation of 35 men today marks an all-time high for the patrol's strength, Col. Scott Radcliffe, superintendent, said. The patrol's manpower is now boosted to 758, including 66 now assigned to the turnpike.

In a drive to reach the full authorized strength of 700 plus 75 for turnpike duty, the patrol has graduated 4 classes in the past 10 months.

Training will begin April 25 for another class, but there are openings for cadet dispatchers — qualified men who are 20 years old and who can work at various posts at the desk.

Census Taker Gets The Gate In Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—"The government has never done anything for me. Why should I do anything for the government?" says George Kido. And that includes answering a census takers questions.

Kido, who lives in suburban Sterling, his wife and Janet Vukovich got into a fuss this week when Mrs. Vukovich called at the Kido home to pick up a census form.

Mrs. Kido answered the door.

"I asked her (Mrs. Vukovich) to sit in the kitchen but she plunked herself down in the living room," said Mrs. Kido. "I answered some of her questions, but her attitude provoked me."

Kido became angry when Mrs. Vukovich asked him about bathroom facilities in his home, then handed him an additional census form to fill out. He escorted Mrs. Vukovich to the door and tossed the form out after her.

Mrs. Vukovich, her supervisor, Helene Zimmerman, and a state policeman want to the Kido home the following day and were ordered out. They left.

Mrs. Zimmerman said that when she told Kido he was liable to a $100 fine and 60 days in jail for not answering he told her: "Go ahead and prosecute."

The matter has been turned over to the regional census director, John Thuraldson, who says records show that in 170 years the Census Bureau hasn't had to prosecute anyone for refusing to answer questions.

Nixon Big Loser, Brown Claims

'No Trends,' Rockefeller Says Of Wisconsin Voting

By The Associated Press

They're still talking about the Wisconsin primary, and what it means seems to depend on which party the spokesman belongs to. Here are some late returns:

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York (Republican): "It didn't sound very decisive for anyone. I wouldn't draw any conclusions from it. I don't think any major trends can be drawn." However, the governor said in New York Thursday, the heavy Democratic vote in Wisconsin Tuesday showed "the Republicans are a minority party in terms of registration. We might as well face it."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California (Democrat): Vice President Richard M. Nixon was "the big loser." "The vice president," Brown said, "was running unopposed in his own party's primary, yet drew only 30 per cent of the total vote in a state where the Republican vote is traditionally heavy."

Adlai E. Stevenson (Democrat): "I congratulate Sen. (John F.) Kennedy (D-Mass) on his victory in Wisconsin and also Sen. (Hubert H.) Humphrey (D-Minn) on his splendid showing. The total Democratic vote in Wisconsin was another sign that the people demand a strong liberal candidate and that the Democrats are on their way to victory in November." Stevenson, who is in the West Indies, released his statement through his Chicago office.

Kennedy, who got 56 per cent of the Democratic vote and carried six of 10 congressional districts in Wisconsin, was stumping Thursday in Indiana. He cut his tour short, however, and flew to Washington in case the civil rights bill came up for a final vote in the Senate today. Kennedy hoped to return to Indiana tonight.

Humphrey planned a folksy, hand-shaking bus tour of some West Virginia coal fields today, looking toward that state's primary May 10. Again he'll be up against Kennedy, and he said, "This time it's my turn."

Rockefeller, speaking at Jamestown, N.Y., Thursday night, called for fellow Republicans to join him in a statewide crusade in support of the national ticket. But again he did not mention Nixon, the only GOP presidential candidate in sight.

Asked by newsmen whether he would reconsider heading the ticket himself, Rockefeller said, "We will cross that bridge if it comes. I do not think the opportunity is apt to come." Rockefeller reiterated he would not run for vice president "under any circumstances."

Rep. Quentin Burdick (D-ND) will run against Gov. John E. Davis for the remaining 4½ years of the late GOP Sen. William A. Langer's Senate term.

Burdick, 51, was nominated unanimously at Bismarck, N.D., by state Democrats and Nonpartisan leaders. He'll meet Republican Davis in a special election June 28.

Retired Admiral Dies

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Adm. Botelho de Souza, 88, who retired as chief of the navy general staff in 1950, died Thursday.

'Think We Have Her Beat,' Tenant Farmer Says Of Flood

GREGORY LANDING, Mo. (AP) — "I think we've got her whipped."

Clyde Campbell, spoke slowly and confidently from atop a sand levee as he stared at his old foe—the flooding Mississippi River.

Outside the rectangular sand and earth levees protecting his home, 6,000 acres of farmland were 4 to 8 feet under water.

(AP reporter Arthur Srb reached the Campbell farm by rowboat Thursday.)

Inside the dike, Campbell's own battlement against the mighty river, up to 2 feet of water glistened in low spots.

But five pumps chugged steady streams of the muddy water back over the levee into the inundated lowland.

Campbell, a husky 52-year-old tenant farmer, hired two men to help him build the levee last week when rising Mississippi flood waters first splashed into the lowland area near his home.

"When I was unable to get my corn to market because of the muddy roads, I had to do something," Campbell said resolutely.

Campbell rubbed his ham-like fist across his tired eyes and stubbly beard. And he talked of the 9,000 bushels of corn stored in a huge bin next to his one-story frame farm home.

"I believe this levee has saved most of it from moisture damage," he said.

Campbell and his wife, Margaret, are both dog tired. They have managed only brief snatches of sleep during their five-day duel with the Mississippi. Most of the time they nap in Campbell's car parked high on the levee.

A part woman of 48, Mrs. Campbell has labored beside her determined husband throughout the anxious moments and trying days.

"We're in pretty good shape now," she added.

Some muddy river water has seeped into the house, but most of the Campbell's furniture and appliances have been out of harm's way on boxes and barrels.

Cleaning Planned For 5 Streets In Downtown Area

Continuing the spring cleaning of East Liverpool streets, city crews tonight will flush and sweep W. 5th and 6th Sts. and the intersecting streets from Jackson St. west, Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver announced.

The street department crew will use fire hoses and brooms to clear away the winter accumulation of dirt and debris, the director explained. Jackson, Jefferson and Monroe Sts. also will be cleaned, probably in the stretch between W. 6th St. and W. 4th St. The work will start at 11.

The director asked residents of the area to keep parked cars off the affected stretch as much as possible in order not to interfere with the cleaning work. The work cannot be done effectively if cars are parked near the curb, where most of the dirt is concentrated, he explained.

The crew cleaned the Diamond and sections of E. 5th and 6th Sts. and Washington St. last night. Cleaning is scheduled today on W. 7th St. and Bradshaw Ave., the director said.

$4½ Million Will Be Set For Ohio School Districts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — By August, state school officials say, the 4½ million dollars remaining from last year's 10-million-dollar appropriation will be committed to school districts with overcrowding problems.

The money is to help build facilities to relieve the overcrowding, and 32 districts applied last fall. If all the requests had been approved, officials said at that time, 20 million dollars would have been needed.

Dr. E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, said he will recommend to the State Board of Education Monday that June 15 be set as the deadline for application, except in districts where consolidations become effective July 1. The deadline in those cases would be July 10.

An elementary school is considered overcrowded if it has an average of more than 30 pupils per classroom. The standard for high schools is 25.

At Monday's board meeting, Holt also is expected to recommend disapproval of the Lorain City Board of Education's request to transfer 2,050 acres of land fronting on Lake Erie west of the city for school purposes. Valuation for tax purposes ($18,673,501) of the annexed territory is disproportionately high to the number of school pupils (194) residing there, the state superintendent said.

A four-member committee of the State Board of Education heard arguments for and against the proposed annexation last March 25. Involved are the northern part of the Amherst district, eastern part of Vermilion district and northern part of Firelands district, all of which claim they will lose needed tax money from the Ford Motor Co. and other industries in the territory.

The city contends taxes do not enter the picture, but that it wants to see the welfare of the pupils bettered.

Other expected Holt recommendations:

That the board give its views (as individual members) to the Interim Commission on Education Beyond the High School, which is preparing a report on establishment of junior colleges and technical institutes.

Revocation of the charter of Rio Grande High School in Gallia County for failing to meet minimum state standards for an adequate curriculum.

Disapproval of Western Reserve Local District's application for a $335,000 bond issue because the Mahoning County school does not meet standards as a permanent high school center.

Approval of submitting the question of bond issues to voters of these districts: Connotton Valley (Harrison County); Kettering City, Wayne and Brookville Locals (Montgomery); Tallmadge City (Summit); West Lake Exempted and Beachwood (Cuyahoga); Greenhills Exempted (Hamilton); Fairless (Stark); Rittman and Wooster (Wayne) and Avon Lake (Lorain).

Approval of these financial arrangements: Ottawa Hills Local Board to pay Washington Twp. Local Board $16,242 as its share of the bonded indebtedness, and Toledo Board of Education to pay Washington Twp. local board $53,432 as its share.

Requests Dismissed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Utilities Commission today dismissed Dayton Power & Light Co.'s application for a natural gas rate increase in the Fayette County community of Bloomingburg. Dayton Power filed for the increase last July 15, but said Tuesday that the village has approved a rate ordinance acceptable to the company.

Advocated Pre-Martial Relations

Fired Illinois Professor Plans Reinstatement Fight

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—A biology professor, fired from his University of Illinois post because he advocated pre-marital sexual relations, say he will fight for reinstatement.

Asst. Prof. Leo F. Koch, 44, was relieved of all duties Thursday by the university which called his published views "a grave breach of academic responsibility."

The controversy grew out of Koch's letter published March 18 by the Daily Illini, the student newspaper. The letter concluded:

"A mutually satisfactory sexual experience would eliminate the need for many hours of frustrating petting and lead to a much happier and longer-lasting marriages among our younger men and women."

Koch, married and the father of a teen-age daughter and two young sons, declared:

"I believe I have been discharged on grounds that violate the traditional academic freedom of universities in this country." Koch termed his dismissal unfair and said he will fight to regain his job by appealing through university channels to the American Assn. of University Professors and the Faculty Committee on Academic Freedom.

Koch's letter also said that students who limit themselves to petting may indicate "an extreme degree of brainwashing by our religious and civil authorities in the name of virtue and purity."

Dr. David D. Henry, president of the university, in a letter to Lyle H. Lanier, dean of the division of general studies, said:

"With you, I consider Prof. Koch's letter a grave breach of academic responsibility. The views expressed are offensive and repugnant, contrary to commonly accepted standards of morality, and their public espousal may be interpreted as encouragement of immoral behavior."

Koch, a native of Dickinson, N.D., holds master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Michigan. He taught at Fresno State and Bakersfield colleges in California before taking the Illinois post in 1955.

No Annulment In Marriage Of Heiress Expected

NEW YORK (AP) — Runaway heiress Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu's 75-year-old grandmother apparently won't attempt to have her North Carolina marriage to ex-chauffeur Andre Porumbeanu annulled.

A source close to the family quoted 75-year-old Katherine Geddes Benedict as saying Thursday: "I wash my hands of them. I want nothing further to do with them or their escapades."

Mrs. Benedict, Gamble's multimillionaire guardian, had fought hard and long to break up the romance between the girl and her Romanian-born sweetheart. The grandmother pulled the strings last Christmas season in getting Gamble back from Paris where she had skipped with Porumbeanu —then married. Court orders were issued here to keep them apart.

But the 35-year-old Porumbeanu recently got a Mexican divorce and he and Gamble, 19, were married Wednesday near Hendersonville, N.C. They are now honeymooning at an undisclosed spot.

Develop Chemical Weapons, Army Expert Tells U.S.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An Army chemical warfare expert said today the United States should push to develop chemical weapons even more potent than kill-in-a-minute "nerve gases" already possessed by America and the Soviet Union.

Hinting that some such effort may already be underway, but that an adequate program would require vigorous public support, Dr. William H. Summerson, a deputy commander of the Chemical Corps' research and development command, asserted:

"It is to our national interest to uncover as yet unrevealed toxicological secrets at least as rapidly as a potential enemy nation can do so, and preferably before he does."

Summerson made the statements at a symposium wherein he and other government scientists painted a grim picture of the "threat" to the United States and its allies arising from possible chemical and germ warfare—and the need for assuring strong defenses and countermeasures.

And their remarks were underscored by the statement of Maj. Gen. Marshall Stubbs, the Army's chief chemical officer, that "there is some evidence that the Communist bloc may surpass us in this field."

Federation's Guest Speaks To 100 On Tour Of Russia

A highly "personal and prejudiced" impression of her tour through Russia was given by Mrs. Betty Jaycox, women's editor of the Akron Beacon Journal, for the spring meeting of the City Federation of Women's Clubs Wednesday night at the Mary Patterson Memorial. Some 100 attended.

Mrs. Jaycox, winner of several awards in journalism, said the city of Leningrad, with its many canals, proved a disappointment but she was much impressed with Moscow.

Here she toured the University of Moscow and painted a vivid picture of the "Red Square," the showcase of the capital. Her descriptions of the glass tombs of Lenin and Stalin, centering the square, emphasized her point that she feels the only religion in the country is the idealogy of these late leaders.

When she joined the "Nixon tour," she visited the children's nurseries and said she was amazed at the remarkable care the Ministry of Health provides for the children, enabling all the women to work.

Although she did not delve into the education phase, she said schooling stops for those who do not qualify after rigid tests and the young people are paid to go to college.

Mrs. William J. Horger, program chairman, introduced the guest.

Miss Gladys DeBolt, president, gave the welcome and conducted business. Mrs. Donald E. Wolfe, secretary, read the minutes and announced the Business & Professional Women's Club had the largest representation with 17 members.

The welcome committee included Mrs. John Fraser, Mrs. Francis Lang, Mrs. Joseph Cooper and Mrs. Sam Chertoff. Miss Rachel Ketchum was in charge of registration.

The Garden Club, with Mrs. John R. Keller as chairman, provided the decorations. Crocks of begonias were used before the platform and madonna figurines filled with arrangements of jonquils, carnations and mums were used throughout the room.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, Mrs. John B. McDonald and Mrs. Everson Hall, co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. William Pickin and Mrs. Robert Dunlap.

A large arrangement of pink and white snapdragons centered the buffet table covered with a pink cloth. Lighted tapers in silver holders completed the setting. Miss DeBolt and Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, vice president, presided at the silver tea services.

The date for the fall meeting will be announced.

Miss Diane Vodrey Relates Exchange Trip To Germany

Experiences in Germany were related by Miss Diane Vodrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vodrey of Elysian Way, at the meeting of the Colonial Club Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. Burchfield Cartwright of Park Blvd.

A student at Muskingum College, she was one of 12 young people chosen from a field of 70 applicants to participate in the Cleveland Youth Leaders Exchange program last summer.

She stayed with two families during her visit in Hamburg, the Vogel family with a small son and the Dierk family with four children. She assisted with the household chores during her stay.

She spoke of her visits to the refugee camp and the youth center. Miss Vodrey spent a week in Munich with a former "pen pal."

For her guided tour to East Berlin, she flew by Pan-American Airlines, as no German planes are allowed in. They were not permitted to take pictures of any ruins or of the policemen. There is no night life as the streets become deserted after the stores close.

Miss Vodrey worked at the youth sport camp on the Sylt Island in the North Sea. Here, the group conducted a "typical American camp day" for the children.

She enjoyed a four-day holiday in Paris before embarking for home. This summer, she will be on the staff of the Recreational Council at the Beech Brook Children's Home in Cleveland.

Federation's Guest Speaks To 100 On Tour Of Russia

A highly "personal and prejudiced" impression of her tour through Russia was given by Mrs. Betty Jaycox, women's editor of the Akron Beacon Journal, for the spring meeting of the City Federation of Women's Clubs Wednesday night at the Mary Patterson Memorial. Some 100 attended.

Mrs. Jaycox, winner of several awards in journalism, said the city of Leningrad, with its many canals, proved a disappointment but she was much impressed with Moscow.

Here she toured the University of Moscow and painted a vivid picture of the "Red Square," the showcase of the capital. Her descriptions of the glass tombs of Lenin and Stalin, centering the square, emphasized her point that she feels the only religion in the country is the idealogy of these late leaders.

When she joined the "Nixon tour," she visited the children's nurseries and said she was amazed at the remarkable care the Ministry of Health provides for the children, enabling all the women to work.

Although she did not delve into the education phase, she said schooling stops for those who do not qualify after rigid tests and the young people are paid to go to college.

Mrs. William J. Horger, program chairman, introduced the guest.

Miss Gladys DeBolt, president, gave the welcome and conducted business. Mrs. Donald E. Wolfe, secretary, read the minutes and announced the Business & Professional Women's Club had the largest representation with 17 members.

The welcome committee included Mrs. John Fraser, Mrs. Francis Lang, Mrs. Joseph Cooper and Mrs. Sam Chertoff. Miss Rachel Ketchum was in charge of registration.

The Garden Club, with Mrs. John R. Keller as chairman, provided the decorations. Crocks of begonias were used before the platform and madonna figurines filled with arrangements of jonquils, carnations and mums were used throughout the room.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, Mrs. John B. McDonald and Mrs. Everson Hall, co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. William Pickin and Mrs. Robert Dunlap.

A large arrangement of pink and white snapdragons centered the buffet table covered with a pink cloth. Lighted tapers in silver holders completed the setting. Miss DeBolt and Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, vice president, presided at the silver tea services.

The date for the fall meeting will be announced.

Congress Urged To Pass Plan To Deal With Surplus Problem

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Midwestern Farm Bureau leaders have called on Congress to enact a four-point program "to deal with the back-breaking surplus problem."

Delegates to an 11-state meeting Thursday said crop surpluses have reached "near - scandal proportions" and "threatens all agriculture."

President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation told them farmers are being threatened "by the same public attitude that has been aroused by certain labor practices."

Shuman said one-third of the nine billion dollars worth of government - held farm surplus is wheat. He said there are only four ways to get rid of it—eat it, feed it, export it and store it.

"We've about reached the end of the rope in storing it," Shuman said. "We're eating about all we can eat, we're forcing all we can into exports. The only alternative is to find a way to bring about an adjustment in production."

Shuman said the Farm Bureau will press Congress to adopt a wheat program which would:

1. Eliminate all government controls on wheat production and marketing.
2. Base the 1961 wheat support price on the corn support level.
3. Prohibit the government from selling stored wheat at less than 150 per cent of the support price, plus carrying charges.
4. Expand the soil bank program to idle more farm acreage.

How do you tell a drunk?
The man was acting strangely. You know what people thought. But the neighborhood pharmacist had a hunch, took a close look, gave the man sugar. Then he called a physician who found the man was in insulin shock. Too much insulin, not liquor. Without prompt treatment, he might have died. This story illustrates the potency of modern drugs. Before using powerful drugs you should see a physician and then follow directions to the letter when taking them. There's a happier moral. Without modern drugs, the diabetic in this story wouldn't have had a life to save.

Sorority Group Meets

HANOVERTON — The Guilford Lake Delta Eta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Jenkins. Mrs. John Mason discussed table linen. Plans were completed for the mother and daughter dinner to be held Thursday, April 28, at the home of Mrs. Richard Broomall.

How do you tell a drunk?

The man was acting strangely. You know what people thought. But the neighborhood pharmacist had a hunch, took a close look, gave the man sugar. Then he called a physician who found the man was in insulin shock. Too much insulin, not liquor. Without prompt treatment, he might have died. This story illustrates the potency of modern drugs. Before using powerful drugs you should see a physician and then follow directions to the letter when taking them. There's a happier moral. Without modern drugs, the diabetic in this story wouldn't have had a life to save.

Congress Urged To Pass Plan To Deal With Surplus Problem

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Midwestern Farm Bureau leaders have called on Congress to enact a four-point program "to deal with the back-breaking surplus problem."

Delegates to an 11-state meeting Thursday said crop surpluses have reached "near - scandal proportions" and "threatens all agriculture."

President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation told them farmers are being threatened "by the same public attitude that has been aroused by certain labor practices."

Shuman said one-third of the nine billion dollars worth of government - held farm surplus is wheat. He said there are only four ways to get rid of it—eat it, feed it, export it and store it.

"We've about reached the end of the rope in storing it," Shuman said. "We're eating about all we can eat, we're forcing all we can into exports. The only alternative is to find a way to bring about an adjustment in production."

Shuman said the Farm Bureau will press Congress to adopt a wheat program which would:

1. Eliminate all government controls on wheat production and marketing.
2. Base the 1961 wheat support price on the corn support level.
3. Prohibit the government from selling stored wheat at less than 150 per cent of the support price, plus carrying charges.
4. Expand the soil bank program to idle more farm acreage.

FBI Nabs Two In Bomb Hoax 'Crackdown'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tough federal crackdown on airliner bomb hoaxers has netted two men in widely separated incidents. One was an advertising executive, the other a petroleum engineer.

The engineer, Fred Y. Cronk Jr. 43, was arrested by FBI agents Thursday night in Tulsa, Okla. Accused of setting off a false bomb scare on a Denver-Tulsa flight last Monday, Cronk protested through his lawyer:

"I was kidding with the stewardess and I said, 'I bet those birds brought a bomb on board.' The next thing I knew the plane was emptied of passengers and we were all outside being searched."

The ad executive, 35-year-old James Knox Van Arsdale III of Sarasota, Fla., was picked up there Thursday night and charged with making remarks about a bomb before boarding a flight from Louisville, Ky., to Tampa, Fla.

In Van Arsdale's case, his luggage was searched and no bomb was found. The plane took off with him aboard and 30 minutes later the pilot decided to return to Louisville for a thorough search. Again no bomb was found and the flight belatedly took off for Florida again.

Taken to Tampa for arraignment, Van Arsdale declined to discuss his case with newsmen. "I've learned my lesson," he said. "In fact, I would hesitate to give anybody the time of day."

Van Arsdale was released on $1,000 bond pending a hearing. Cronk pleaded innocent in Tulsa and was released on $500 bond.

City Man Jailed In Wheeling Case

A 29-year-old man who said he is a native of East Liverpool is being held today by Wheeling police for questioning in connection with the armed robbery of a Wheeling housewife.

Richard Marks, hunted by Wheeling police for several days on suspicion of armed robbery, was captured after a Michigan state trooper stopped him for traveling too slowly near Hillsdale, Mich.

Marks was charged with the armed robbery of Mrs. Chester E. Gates of Wheeling and the theft of the family's station wagon last week.

He is being held in the Ohio County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bond. Deputies said Mark served time in a South Carolina prison for breakand a day in the federal prison in Florida for auto theft.

Police said Marks financed his flight from Wheeling through several states with two gasoline credit cards issued to Charles E. Gates Jr.

City Man And Calcutta Girl Hurt In Collision

Clarence Campbell, 50, of 1310 Riverview St. and Miss Karen Wooley, 17, of Sunset Dr., Calcutta, are in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received Thursday about 4:15 p. m. in a traffic crash on Route 68 near the Beaver Creek Bridge.

Campbell received a scalp laceration and Miss Woolley, possible back and neck injuries. She is the daughter of Charles Woolley of Calcutta R. D. 2.

Campbell was cited for driving too fast for conditions by Bernard Zlatovich, Ohio Township police constable. Police said Campbell hit the rear of Miss Woolley's car, which was stopped waiting for approaching traffic to clear in order to make a left turn onto the Smiths Ferry - Calcutta Rd.

Campaign Leaders Confer

Cancer Drive To Go Into High Gear

The city's annual Cancer Crusade is about to move into high gear with various drive efforts either launched or ready to get under way, Thomas J. Doland, city chairman, announced.

Shown making plans for the campaign are, seated, Mike Turk, chairman of the business solicitation, and Mrs. H. F. Banfield, special gifts chairman, and standing, left, Ralph Betts, superintendent of schools and chairman of the school solicitation, and Doland.

The residential solicitation by volunteer workers will begin April 20 with Mrs. Lawrence Newtz and Mrs. Ernest Sturgis, co-chairmen, in charge. The Women's Civil Defense Council and high school Key Club will assist.

Miss Joan Witt, teacher at Westgate School, will be in charge of Tag Day scheduled April 30 with the Future Nurses of America Club of the high school assisting.

Mrs. Sally Scott, president of the City Hospital Nurses Alumnae Association, will direct the hospital campaign.

A traffic solicitation will be conducted in the East End April 19 by American Legion Post 374, Allen Goodman, commander, reported.

Coin receptacles have already been placed in city business places by Boy Scout Troop 7 of St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

Doland said residents should remember 60 cents out of every dollar donated is retained in the community.

"We all want to know that research is being pushed to solve the mystery of cancer for generations to come. But we also want to know that American Cancer Society funds are being spent right here in our city and in our state," he said.

"We must raise enough to continue the expanding program so no service will have to be discontinued. The number of cases being aided is growing, and the money income is not going up accordingly," he concluded.

Fines Termed No Deterrent, Court Lifts Driver's License

Asserting that fines imposed last week on two traffic offenses apparently proved no deterrent, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a 30-day license suspension for an 18-year-old motorist who appeared before him for a third offense — speeding on the East Liverpool - Wellsville "superroad."

The judge also imposed a fine of $15 and costs on the young defendant, Samuel J. Laneve, 554 Campground Rd., who was haled before the court on a bench warrant after he failed to appear Wednesday for a hearing scheduled by the State Highway Patrol.

Last week, Laneve was fined on charges of reckless driving and illegal auto registration. Today's hearing was based on an arrest for speeding early Sunday on the "super - road."

"Mr. Laneve's entire attitude has been that he will operate his car in any way he likes, regardless of everyone else on the highway," the judge commented before imposing sentence. "The fines imposed in the other cases didn't impress you; a suspension of your license may," he told Laneve.

Explaining why he issued a bench warrant for Laneve's arrest, the judge commented: "The majesty of the law must be upheld. The court must be respected regardless of the occupant of the bench."

Atty. Lawrence W. Smith Jr., counsel for Laneve, entered a statement in nitigation for his client, who pleaded "no contest." Laneve was confused about the time he was scheduled to appear in court because the citation given him by the patrol fixed the hearing Wednesday at 9 a. m. but a notation made when he posted bond at police headquarters fixed the case Monday at 9 a. m., the attorney said.

Conceding that "there could be some confusion on the defendant's part on when he was to appear," the judge vacated the forfeiture on Laneve's $31 appearance bond. The bond had been forfeited when Laneve did not appear Wednesday. Laneve will be given credit for the $15 fine and $6 costs, which means he will get a $10 refund from the bond, the court ruled.

Burglars Don't Like South Dakota's Winter

PIERRE, S. D. (AP) — Apparently crooks don't like the winter weather in South Dakota.

Long winter nights normally attract burglars. But evidently crooks find slogging through snow and braving icy winds unpleasnat, says Rol Kebach, chief state criminal agent.

He says that could be why this state runs exactly counter to the nation's seasonal pattern of crime. South Dakota's crimes occur more in the summer.

Young Composer Can't Understand Why All The Fuss

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eight-year-old Kenneth Brown, whose "An Israeli Rhapsody" will be played for the first time Saturday by the Philadelphia Orchestra, can't understand why all the fuss over such a young composer's success.

Heck, he's been writing music since he was four years old. It's a simple thing to him and he can't understand why everybody can't be a composer.

"It comes easy to him," his mother, Vera Brown, explained today. "He can't understand himself that it's a gift."

How does Kenneth go about composing a song?

"He doesn't use a piano," said Mrs. Brown. "He just sits down and starts writing out notes. He says he pictures these things in his head. I asked him about 'An Israeli Rhapsody' and he said he had just pictured the country in his mind. I said but how can you when you've never been there and he insisted he could. Really, there is no explanation except he's gifted."

Ken, a third grader, wrote "An Israeli Rhapsody" last January. It impressed his parents, piano teacher and William Smith, assistant conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra. Smith selected it as the best composition submitted in a competition open to boys and girls in the Phildelphia area. It will be played Saturday at the annual children's concert in the Academy of Music.

Fines Termed No Deterrent, Court Lifts Driver's License

Asserting that fines imposed last week on two traffic offenses apparently proved no deterrent, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Vintage 'Whodunits' Off To Screaming Start

On paper, a TV series devoted to classic murder mysteries is a marvelous idea. But the production of "The Bat," which opened the series on NBC-TV last Thursday night, raises some large questions.

John Crosby

"The Bat," which was derived from Mary Roberts Rinehart's "The Circular Staircase," practically started the mania for modern mystery in fiction and on the stage. But vast strides, not necessarily in wholesome directions, have been taken since then.

The modern mystery turned a big corner with "The Maltese Falcon," by Dashiell Hammett, who laid the groundwork. Then came Mickey Spillane, who ruined the facade of realism by extending the sex and sadism to ridiculous lengths so successfully that everyone adopted this technique.

AT ANY RATE, the spectacle of an old lady (Helen Hayes) outwitting a guy dressed as a bat in an old house while Lizzie the housekeeper screamed and screamed and screamed doesn't raise any goose pimples any more. In fact, you're likely only to be amused.

The question raised by this one is simply: Are they going to play it for laughs or for thrills? Many of the old classic murders are going to sound pretty funny in the cold light of the 20th century where the kids start killing each other in the streets at the age of 15.

However, if you view this—as I did—in a spirit of fun and games, you'll have a gay old time. Never have I seen so many doors opening silently (closeup of the handle turning) or so many faces at the window (scream) or so many fortuitous electrical failures at the precise point when the plot needed them (scream) or so many figures scampering down the dim corridor (scream) or so many unexplained entrances or unexplained window openings or unexplained fireplace closings or terribly explicable candles flickering in the wind or flashes of lightning.

THAT— as the poet (Howard Dietz, circa 1732) used to say—is entertainment and Mary Roberts Rinehart believed in giving them lots for their money.

Everyone, in Mary Roberts Rinehart's books, got into the act; everyone had a motive for killing the old skinflint; everyone's motives tied up in a neat little bundle with everyone else's motives.

Believe me, it wasn't easy. But I'm not sure it's appreciated in this day of "The Blob," "The Fly" and Alfred Hitchcock.

The acting by Helen Hayes, Jason Robards and Margaret Hamilton (who did all the screaming) was broad and so was the direction by Paul Nickell. Joseph Welch was the host and he was splendidly fusty and old world and all that, don't y'know.

AND, WHILE we're about it, we might dwell for a moment on Jason Robards, one of Broadway's fastest-rising young actors. A veteran of television, Robards now does only about four shows a year.

"I've been in television from the beginning," he said. "I'm best known for "For Whom the Bell Tolls." I think the 'Bell' made me more recognizable than the one movie or all the Broadway shows I've done."

Robards is that old-fashioned thing, an actor who enjoys Shakespeare.

"Of all the parts," he confessed. "I enjoy Macbeth the most. I feel great in it. Besides, there's that language! And the structure of the play! I want to do Macbeth on Broadway. "I'm nearer him in crudeness. He's a very crude man. Hamlet's refined. Macbeth is a warrior and a superstitious one.

"Then there are those great, great speeches. He's a fascinating character and he's self-destructive," Robards declared, with all the open-hearted enthusiasm of a self-destructive satyr who appreciates this decent quality in others.

IN THE NEXT few months the great mysteries series will do two more shows and then go off for the summer.

The next one will be "The Burning Court" by John Dickson Carr on Sunday, April 24. Others in the series eventually will be such classics as Edgar Allan Poe's "Murders in the Rue Morgue" and Willkie Collins' "The Woman in White," which is just about the scariest mystery I ever read.

Limited Response Points Up Fight On Bond Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — A limited response to a new long-term bond issue provided new ammunition today for administration arguments that the bond interest ceiling should be raised or removed.

The Treasury Department announced Thursday it sold only 370 million dollars of the new 25-year securities which pay 4¼ per cent interest.

Officials had said they expected sales would run about 500 million dollars and they were willing to issue up to 1½ billion dollars worth. The bond was the first offered in a year.

The administration has been trying without success for the past year to get Congress to remove the ceiling of 4¼ per cent interest on bonds running five years or longer. The Treasury said there was little or no market for bonds at that rate and contended long-term bonds must be issued to handle the debt.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson said the department offered the new bond in order to judge true demand for a long-term issue under the 4¼ per cent ceiling.

Car Accident Fatal

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Caleb Reeder, 39, was killed instantly when a car went off the Detroit-Toledo Expressway and dropped about 30 feet into a ditch Thursday night.

Trio Indicted For Attempted Bank Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three Trumbull County men, who allegedly got only a handful of change for their trouble, have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of attempted burglary of a North Jackson branch bank.

Indicted Thursday were Edward W. Vesey, 21, and Millard A. Binion, 17, both of McDonald, and Paul G. Mowery, 31, of Niles.

They are accused of breaking into the Jackson-Milton branch of the Mahoning National Bank of Youngstown early March 10, and trying to carry off a one-ton safe containing $24,000. They were unsuccessful.

George W. Morrison, assistant U.S. attorney, said the men also entered an auto agency and service station in the same building as the bank.

They got nothing from the auto agency and only an undetermined sum of money from a cigarette machine in the gas station, Morrison said.

Arraignment will be next Wednesday.

Also indicted were four men accused of robbing a Cleveland bank messenger, who lost only $1.50 in cash along with $141,618 in canceled checks—of no use to the robbers.

Indicted on counts of robbery and conspiring to commit robbery were Edgar J. Cowgill, 49, Medina; Donald F. Kappel, 24, Newburgh Heights, a Cleveland suburb; and Vincent C. Pedro, 25, and Robert B. Pawlicki, both of Cleveland.

Pawlicki is the nephew of Frank Pawlicki, the bank messenger from whom a package and a pouch were taken while the messenger was riding on a bus March 11.

Burdick Faces Gov. Davis For Seat In Senate

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Rep. Quentin Burdick, a Democratic trailblazer in the stronghold of Republicanism, will battle Gov. John E. Davis for the remaining 4½ years of the late Sen. William Langer's Senate seat.

State Democrats and Nonpartisan Leaguers meeting in joint convention Thursday unanimously designated the 51-year-old attorney as their nominee.

Burdick and Davis are matched in the June 28 special election to name a successor to Langer, the longtime political firebrand who died in office last November.

The seat now is held by Republican Norman Brunsdale, appointed by Davis on an interim basis.

Burdick rode a North Dakota Democratic upsurge into the House of Representatives in 1958, the first of his party ever to gain a House seat from North Dakota.

Ed Jordan Heads Chester Key Club

Edwin Jordan was elected president of the Chester High School Key Club at a meeting Thursday at the school. He succeeds Reid Calcott.

Others named were Blaine Pinney, vice president; Jim Eberhart, secretary, and Sam Pipes, treasurer. Plans were completed for a dance to be sponsored Saturday night at 8 at the high school by the club and the Student Council. Proceeds will be used for the City Park building fund.

The annual parents appreciation banquet will be held April 21 at the First Christian Church.

Pinney is a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Rockefeller Indicates He Hasn't 'Closed Door'

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller indicates that he has not closed the door on a possible Republican presidential draft. But he said he doubts it will come.

Rockefeller, asked at a news conference Thursday if he would reconsider heading the GOP ticket in November, said:

"We will cross that bridge if it comes. I do not think the opportunity is apt to come."

Rockefeller was more definite about a GOP vice presidential nomination. He said he would not fill the second spot on the ticket "under any circumstances."

Candidates Introduced At Republican Meeting

LISBON — Seventy-five attended a meeting of the Mid-County Republicans Club Wednesday night in the Daughters of America Hall.

Following business, candidates were introduced and each spoke briefly. Mrs. Joan Dixon, president, presided. T. Gerald Ryan of East Liverpool spoke on current affairs and also discussed his work as a member of the Republican finance committee.

Lunch was served by a committee comprised of Mrs. Dorothy Kettlewell, Mrs. Pauline Gerwig and Mrs. Ray Hempstead.

Watershed Units Due

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Plans have been approved to draft proposals authorizing establishment of a series of watershed district organizations, the Water Legislation Council said Thursday. The disstricts would be set up with the aid of the commission and local citizens. The council also would implement flood control and provide a better system of financing water improvements including a program of adequate reservoir sites.

Hospital Trustees Pushed Too Much, Attorney Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In one of the most hard-hitting talks of the Ohio Hospital Assn.'s annual meeting, a West Coast attorney told the audience that too many solid citizens who serve as hospital trustees are letting themselves be pushed around.

James E. Ludlam of Los Angeles, legal counsel for the Assn. of Western Hospitals, said Thursday that the job of the trustees—who usually are community leaders serving without pay—is to run the hospital, despite attempts by doctors and other persons to alter this concept.

But, said Ludlam, "hospital trustees, voluntarily or involuntarily, have abdicated substantially all of their authority over management and control of hospital affairs."

Trustees naturally would want to delegate to the medical staff the function of passing on the individual doctor's professional abilities, Ludlam said, but they should not lose authority to act if the doctor abuses personnel, is disloyal to the hospital or fails to cooperate.

"Hospital trusteeship is more than an honor," the attorney concluded. "It is becoming a matter of basic responsibility and statesmanship of the voluntary hospital system is to continue."

The modern mystery turned a big corner with "The Maltese Falcon," by Dashiell Hammett, who laid the groundwork. Then came Mickey Spillane, who ruined the facade of realism by extending the sex and sadism to ridiculous lengths so successfully that everyone adopted this technique.

"I've been in television from the beginning," he said. "I'm best known for "For Whom the Bell Tolls." I think the 'Bell' made me more recognizable than the one movie or all the Broadway shows I've done."

Robards is that old-fashioned thing, an actor who enjoys Shakespeare.

"Of all the parts," he confessed. "I enjoy Macbeth the most. I feel great in it. Besides, there's that language! And the structure of the play! I want to do Macbeth on Broadway. "I'm nearer him in crudeness. He's a very crude man. Hamlet's refined. Macbeth is a warrior and a superstitious one.

"Then there are those great, great speeches. He's a fascinating character and he's self-destructive," Robards declared, with all the open-hearted enthusiasm of a self-destructive satyr who appreciates this decent quality in others.

IN THE NEXT few months the great mysteries series will do two more shows and then go off for the summer.

The next one will be "The Burning Court" by John Dickson Carr on Sunday, April 24. Others in the series eventually will be such classics as Edgar Allan Poe's "Murders in the Rue Morgue" and Wilkie Collins' "The Woman in White," which is just about the scariest mystery I ever read.

Limited Response Points Up Fight On Bond Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — A limited response to a new long-term bond issue provided new ammunition today for administration arguments that the bond interest ceiling should be raised or removed.

The Treasury Department announced Thursday it sold only 370 million dollars of the new 25-year securities which pay 4¼ per cent interest.

Officials had said they expected sales would run about 500 million dollars and they were willing to issue up to 1½ billion dollars worth. The bond was the first offered in a year.

The administration has been trying without success for the past year to get Congress to remove the ceiling of 4¼ per cent interest on bonds running five years or longer. The Treasury said there was little or no market for bonds at that rate and contended long-term bonds must be issued to handle the debt.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson said the department offered the new bond in order to judge true demand for a long-term issue under the 4¼ per cent ceiling.

Car Accident Fatal

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Caleb Reeder, 39, was killed instantly when a car went off the Detroit-Toledo Expressway and dropped about 30 feet into a ditch Thursday night.

Trio Indicted For Attempted Bank Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three Trumbull County men, who allegedly got only a handful of change for their trouble, have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of attempted burglary of a North Jackson branch bank.

Indicted Thursday were Edward W. Vesey, 21, and Millard A. Binnion, 17, both of McDonald, and Paul G. Mowery, 31, of Niles.

They are accused of breaking into the Jackson-Milton branch of the Mahoning National Bank of Youngstown early March 10, and trying to carry off a one-ton safe containing $24,000. They were unsuccessful.

George W. Morrison, assistant U.S. attorney, said the men also entered an auto agency and service station in the same building as the bank.

They got nothing from the auto agency and only an undetermined sum of money from a cigarette machine in the gas station, Morrison said.

Arraignment will be next Wednesday.

Also indicted were four men accused of robbing a Cleveland bank messenger, who lost only $1.50 in cash along with $141,618 in canceled checks—of no use to the robbers.

Indicted on counts of robbery and conspiring to commit robbery were Edgar J. Cowgill, 49, Medina; Donald F. Kappel, 24, Newburgh Heights, a Cleveland suburb; and Vincent C. Pedro, 25, and Robert B. Pawlicki, both of Cleveland.

Pawlicki is the nephew of Frank Pawlicki, the bank messenger from whom a package and a pouch were taken while the messenger was riding on a bus March 11.

Burdick Faces Gov. Davis For Seat In Senate

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Rep. Quentin Burdick, a Democratic trailblazer in the stronghold of Republicanism, will battle Gov. John E. Davis for the remaining 4½ years of the late Sen. William Langer's Senate seat.

State Democrats and Nonpartisan Leaguers, meeting in joint convention Thursday unanimously designated the 51-year-old attorney as their nominee.

Burdick and Davis are matched in the June 28 special election to name a successor to Langer, the longtime political firebrand who died in office last November.

The seat now is held by Republican Norman Brunsdale, appointed by Davis on an interim basis.

Ed Jordan Heads Chester Key Club

Edwin Jordan was elected president of the Chester High School Key Club at a meeting Thursday at the school. He succeeds Reid Calcott.

Others named were Blaine Pinney, vice president; Jim Eberhart, secretary, and Sam Pipes, treasurer. Plans were completed for a dance to be sponsored Saturday night at 8 at the high school by the club and the Student Council. Proceeds will be used for the City Park building fund.

The annual parents appreciation banquet will be held April 21 at the First Christian Church.

Pinney is a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Rockefeller Indicates He Hasn't 'Closed Door'

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller indicates that he has not closed the door on a possible Republican presidential draft. But he said he doubts it will come.

Rockefeller, asked at a news conference Thursday if he would reconsider heading the GOP ticket in November, said:

"We will cross that bridge if it comes. I do not think the opportunity is apt to come."

Rockefeller was more definite about a GOP vice presidential nomination. He said he would not fill the second spot on the ticket "under any circumstances."

Candidates Introduced At Republican Meeting

LISBON — Seventy-five attended a meeting of the Mid-County Republicans Club Wednesday night in the Daughters of America Hall.

Following business, candidates were introduced and each spoke briefly. Mrs. Joan Dixon, president, presided. T. Gerald Ryan of East Liverpool spoke on current affairs and also discussed his work as a member of the Republican finance committee.

Lunch was served by a committee comprised of Mrs. Dorothy Kellowell, Mrs. Pauline Gerwig and Mrs. Ray Hempstead.

Watershed Units Due

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Plans have been approved to draft proposals authorizing establishment of a series of watershed district organizations, the Water Legislation Council said Thursday. The disstricts would be set up with the aid of the commission and local citizens. The council also would implement flood control and provide a better system of financing water improvements including a program of adequate reservoir sites.

Hospital Trustees Pushed Too Much, Attorney Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In one of the most hard-hitting talks of the Ohio Hospital Assn.'s annual meeting, a West Coast attorney told the audience that too many solid citizens who serve as hospital trustees are letting themselves be pushed around.

James E. Ludlam of Los Angeles, legal counsel for the Assn. of Western Hospitals, said Thursday that the job of the trustees—who usually are community leaders serving without pay—is to run the hospital, despite attempts by doctors and other persons to alter this concept.

But, said Ludlam, "hospital trustees, voluntarily or involuntarily, have abdicated substantially all of their authority over management and control of hospital affairs."

Trustees naturally would want to delegate to the medical staff the function of passing on the individual doctor's professional abilities, Ludlam said, but they should not lose authority to act if the doctor abuses personnel, is disloyal to the hospital or fails to cooperate.

"Hospital trusteeship is more than an honor," the attorney concluded. "It is becoming a matter of basic responsibility and statesmanship of the voluntary hospital system is to continue."

Grade School Pupils Await Concert

Elementary pupils from 12 schools will participate in the third annual all-city elementary instrumental music contest Monday night at 7:30 in Memorial Auditorium.

The three participating units—advanced band, beginners' band and orchestra — have been rehearsing for six weeks for the program, which will culminate their work for the year.

These three pupils warming up for the concert represent the three groups. Left to right, they are Hal Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ball, 1562 Globe St., clarinetist in the advanced band; Patty Starkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Starkey, 1301 Railroad St., cornetist in the beginners' band, and James Flora, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Flora of Macrum St., violinist in the orchestra.

The advanced band is composed of 65 members, who are sixth graders and are playing their instruments for the second year. Peter D'Argenzio, music instructor at Westgate, will be the director.

The beginners' band includes 85 fifth graders who began instrumental music in October. Vincent L. Maola, music instructor at East Junior High, is the director.

The 45-piece orchestra will be directed by John Berry, music instructor at Westgate Junior High. It is composed of elementary pupils playing string instruments along with advanced woodwind, brass and percussion students in the sixth grade.

There has been no advance ticket sales. Admission will be taken at the door.

Groups Hear State Judge

WEIRTON — Co-operation between the legal and medical professions was stressed by Judge Frank C. Haymond of the West Virginia Supreme Court at a joint meeting of the Hancock County Medical Society and the Hancock County Bar Association Thursday night.

About 55 members of the 2 professions attended the meeting in the Weirton General Hospital doctors' diningroom — believed the first such meeting held in West Virginia.

Its purpose was to enlighten both the legal and medical professions of their interrelated duties and obligations in relation to criminal and civil cases.

Judge Haymond, chairman of the American Bar Association committee to co-operate with the American Medical Association, cited the need for co-operation between the two groups in matters of litigation.

He related specific case histories in which the court has outlined various duties of physicians and told the group of various questions that a doctor may be asked that will not violate the medical code.

Judge Haymond said the national inter-professional code has been "highly successful" in California, New York and Michigan, pointing out that "justice is accomplished more readily when the facts are known." He was introduced by Judge J. Harold Brennan of Hancock County Circuit Court.

Dr. George Naymick, county coroner, and Atty. William E. Conklin of Chester, Bar Association president, presided. Members of the Columbiana County Medical Society were guests.

Cervantes, in his "Don Quixote," said: "It never displeases a woman to make love to her."

'I Don't Want To Bankrupt U.S., Tax Hitter Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "I have no idea to bankrupt America, I only want to bring it back to sanity," Willis E. Stone of Los Angeles said Thursday.

Stone is the originator of a proposed amendment to the constitution, which, if passed, would do away with the federal income tax law.

Texas, Nevada and Wyoming have already adopted the proposed amendment, Stone said, and Mississippi, Louisiana and Michigan are in the process of doing so.

Stone, a former industrial engineer, addressed a group of special guests at a Congress of Freedom luncheon meeting here.

"If we just drop the income tax law, and replace it with nothing else," he said, the country would go into bankruptcy. But, he added, there are economic measures which can be taken that would make the income tax unnecessary.

Cleveland Supermarket Hit By $25,000 Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — A fire caused an estimated $25,000 damage early today at a Pick-N-Pay Supermarket in East Cleveland.

An overheated compressor in a frozen food locker was blamed for the blaze. The fire was confined to the supermarket, but four adjoining establishments suffered smoke damage.

'Family Life' Program Topic For Guild Event At Industry

"Family Life" was the theme of the program presented by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Antonucci of Aliquippa at the meeting of St. Christine Guild in the firehall at Industry Tuesday night.

Grade School Pupils Await Concert

Elementary pupils from 12 schools will participate in the third annual all-city elementary instrumental music contest Monday night at 7:30 in Memorial Auditorium.

The three participating units—advanced band, beginners' band and orchestra — have been rehearsing for six weeks for the program, which will culminate their work for the year.

These three pupils warming up for the concert represent the three groups. Left to right, they are Hal Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ball, 1562 Globe St., clarinetist in the advanced band; Patty Starkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Starkey, 1301 Railroad St., cornetist in the beginners' band, and James Flora, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Flora of Macrum St., violinist in the orchestra.

The advanced band is composed of 65 members, who are sixth graders and are playing their instruments for the second year. Peter D'Argenzio, music instructor at Westgate, will be the director.

The beginners' band includes 85 fifth graders who began instrumental music in October. Vincent L. Maola, music instructor at East Junior High, is the director.

The 45-piece orchestra will be directed by John Berry, music instructor at Westgate Junior High. It is composed of elementary pupils playing string instruments along with advanced woodwind, brass and percussion students in the sixth grade.

Groups Hear State Judge

WEIRTON — Co-operation between the legal and medical professions was stressed by Judge Frank C. Haymond of the West Virginia Supreme Court at a joint meeting of the Hancock County Medical Society and the Hancock County Bar Association Thursday night.

About 55 members of the 2 professions attended the meeting in the Weirton General Hospital doctors' diningroom — believed the first such meeting held in West Virginia.

Its purpose was to enlighten both the legal and medical professions of their interrelated duties and obligations in relation to criminal and civil cases.

Judge Haymond, chairman of the American Bar Association committee to co-operate with the American Medical Association, cited the need for co-operation between the two groups in matters of litigation.

He related specific case histories in which the court has outlined various duties of physicians and told the group of various questions that a doctor may be asked that will not violate the medical code.

Judge Haymond said the national inter-professional code has been "highly successful" in California, New York and Michigan, pointing out that "justice is accomplished more readily when the facts are known." He was introduced by Judge J. Harold Brennan of Hancock County Circuit Court.

Dr. George Naymick, county coroner, and Atty. William E. Conklin of Chester, Bar Association president, presided. Members of the Columbiana County Medical Society were guests.

Cervantes, in his "Don Quixote," said: "It never displeases a woman to make love to her."

'I Don't Want To Bankrupt U.S., Tax Hitter Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "I have no idea to bankrupt America, I only want to bring it back to sanity," Willis E. Stone of Los Angeles said Thursday.

Stone is the originator of a proposed amendment to the constitution, which, if passed, would do away with the federal income tax law.

Texas, Nevada and Wyoming have already adopted the proposed amendment, Stone said, and Mississippi, Louisiana and Michigan are in the process of doing so.

Stone, a former industrial engineer, addressed a group of special guests at a Congress of Freedom luncheon meeting here.

"If we just drop the income tax law, and replace it with nothing else," he said, the country would go into bankruptcy. But, he added, there are economic measures which can be taken that would make the income tax unnecessary.

Library's Origins, Future Improvements Discussed

A report on the city's Carnegie Public Library, from its origin in 1899 to proposed improvements, such as plans for air conditioning this summer, was submitted by Miss Frances Jones, librarian, and the Rev. Rudolph Miller, member of the Board of Trustees, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Rev. Miller described the expanding services of the library to the public and students, but said the programs are "only the beginning of what the library can do for the community."

He said it is hoped "some day to add a wing to the present structure, providing a small auditorium and other greater facilities." Rev. Miller said air conditioning will be installed this summer in the main reading room, which becomes very warm. "We hope to attract more users by greater comfort."

Rev. Miller pointed out the library income stems from intangible personal property taxes. Recent increases in income have enabled the purchase of more books and paying salaries to staff members commensurate with their abilities.

"We have a devoted and capable staff, the members of which are continuing their education to provide greater efficiency."

Miss Jones, who is preparing a history of the library, said the initial movement for an institution began about 72 years ago when a reading room was established by the late Will Thompson at the rear of his music store.

In 1896, as the result of a revival meeting whose leaders hoped to maintain the elevated spirit of the movement, a subscription drive was sponsored by the Trades and Labor Council for a library.

When the fund effort began to lag, a library levy was passed as an adjunct to a school levy in 1899. That same year Andrew Carnegie, famed philanthropist, offered a $50,000 grant for a library if the city would provide the property and a $3,000 annual revenue.

A group of individuals subscribed $1,000 each for the Bradshaw property, and the Carnegie library was given its official start.

Miss Jones cited the "hidden excitement in books," especially for library authorities who are able to purchase only 4,000 out of some available 13,000. She said selection could be dominated by opinions, censorship or pressure groups.

"I am happy that we have not had much censorship, and I have never felt any pressure from the trustees," she said. "That is why the library has been able to grow so well."

She said a good library is not a stagnant place of no change, but is constantly adjusting to the spirit of the times. "A library is not a storage house, but is rather like a power house with a dynamo to provide inspiration and knowledge."

Four members of the Salem Kiwanis Club attended. Robert Stewart of the Key Club displayed two plaques won by the club at the state convention, and Craig Burbick, president of the Key Club, spoke about the convention.

H. J. English, first vice president, was in charge.

Members who joined the Grange in the last two years also were recognized.

A jamboree was held with vocal and instrumental selections. Ben Hipsley Jr. was master of ceremonies.

Lawrence Mick, master, presided and it was announced the Juvenile Grange will sponsor a skating party April 26 at the KayBee Roller Rink at Cannons Mills.

The next meeting will be April 21.

Library's Origins, Future Improvements Discussed

A report on the city's Carnegie Public Library, from its origin in 1899 to proposed improvements, such as plans for air conditioning this summer, was submitted by Miss Frances Jones, librarian, and the Rev. Rudolph Miller, member of the Board of Trustees, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Rev. Miller described the expanding services of the library to the public and students, but said the programs are "only the beginning of what the library can do for the community."

He said it is hoped "some day to add a wing to the present structure, providing a small auditorium and other greater facilities." Rev. Miller said air conditioning will be installed this summer in the main reading room, which becomes very warm. "We hope to attract more users by greater comfort."

Rev. Miller pointed out the library income stems from intangible personal property taxes. Recent increases in income have enabled the purchase of more books and paying salaries to staff members commensurate with their abilities.

"We have a devoted and capable staff, the members of which are continuing their education to provide greater efficiency."

Miss Jones, who is preparing a history of the library, said the initial movement for an institution began about 72 years ago when a reading room was established by the late Will Thompson at the rear of his music store.

In 1896, as the result of a revival meeting whose leaders hoped to maintain the elevated spirit of the movement, a subscription drive was sponsored by the Trades and Labor Council for a library.

When the fund effort began to lag, a library levy was passed as an adjunct to a school levy in 1899. That same year Andrew Carnegie, famed philanthropist, offered a $50,000 grant for a library if the city would provide the property and a $3,000 annual revenue.

A group of individuals subscribed $1,000 each for the Bradshaw property, and the Carnegie library was given its official start.

Miss Jones cited the "hidden excitement in books," especially for library authorities who are able to purchase only 4,000 out of some available 12,000. She said selection could be dominated by opinions, censorship or pressure groups.

"I am happy that we have not had much censorship, and I have never felt any pressure from the trustees," she said. "That is why the library has been able to grow so well."

She said a good library is not a stagnant place of no change, but is constantly adjusting to the spirit of the times. "A library is not a storage house, but is rather like a power house with a dynamo to provide inspiration and knowledge."

Four members of the Salem Kiwanis Club attended. Robert Stewart of the Key Club displayed two plaques won by the club at the state convention, and Craig Burbick, president of the Key Club, spoke about the convention.

H. J. English, first vice president, was in charge.

Yellow Creek Grange Cites Charter Group

Five charter members of Yellow Creek Grange were presented with bouquets of roses at a "Booster Night" meeting Thursday in the Grange Hall.

The presentations were made to Mrs. Ella Wilson, Mrs. Nannie Tucker, Mrs. Ethel Woodrow, Harry Given and Fred McPherson by Mrs. Loretta Hawksworth, lecturer.

Members who joined the Grange in the last two years also were recognized.

A jamboree was held with vocal and instrumental selections. Ben Hipsley Jr. was master of ceremonies.

Lawrence Mick, master, presided and it was announced the Juvenile Grange will sponsor a skating party April 28 at the KayBee Roller Rink at Cannons Mills.

The next meeting will be April 21.

Trades Council Backs 2 Local School Levies

Trades and Labor Council has endorsed two school levies totaling 12 mills that will appear on the ballot May 3 in East Liverpool School District, Elmer Robinson, president, and Joseph A. Winters, secretary - treasurer, announced today.

The endorsement was voted at the Trades Council meeting Wednesday night after a report from the group's education committee — headed by James B. Moss — which met earlier Wednesday night with the Board of Education to discuss the levies.

The propositions are renewal of an existing 8-mill levy and 2 new levies totaling 4 mills.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: In October my doctor told me I'd have my baby in April, between the 1st and 15th. This is our first child and naturally we're excited.

A few weeks ago my husband began to ask such questions as, "Do you think you can have that baby by April 15?" I asked why and he said, "We could sure use the tax deduction."

It hurt my feelings to think he'd be so money-minded at such a time. I said nothing.

Last week I felt a few pains and he said "Hooray—wouldn't it be great if the baby was premature?" This morning produced the final straw. He said, "Why don't you move the furniture today—then we'd be sure to make the deadline."

It burns me up that a man can be so ignorant about how much a woman must go through to give him a family. Please tell him a few things about the workings of nature—and I hope you'll hit him right between the eyes.—MERE FEMALE.

Dear Mere: Your husband is ignorant about more than just the workings of nature. He doesn't know much about the workings of the Internal Revenue Service, either.

The deadline for a 1959 deduction was midnight, Dec. 31. The April 15 deadline is for filing. Tell him to relax — and I hope you'll do the same.

Marrying Kind

Dear Ann: My father has been married three times—all flops. My brother and I have spent most of our lives with relatives who didn't want us. Now we're in a children's home. I am 15.

Last week we got a letter from our father. It's the first letter he ever wrote us. He says he married a very nice woman last month and she wants to make a home for my brother and me.

I have nothing but hatred in my heart for my father. He has treated us just rotten. Shall I write and tell him what I think of him?

The woman in charge of this home says to make up my own mind but I can't. Please help me. —TROUBLED MIND.

Dear Troubled: If your father's new wife wants to make a home for you and your brother she must be a fine woman.

Give your dad and his wife a chance. Sounds as if you kids have had lots of luck in your young lives—all bad. This could be the turning point. I'll keep my fingers crossed.

Conscience Best Guide

Dear Ann: My wife is making me crazy. She wants me to touch up my hair so I won't have any gray showing. She says an older man doesn't have a chance for business promotions these days and there's nothing wrong with doing everything possible to look younger.

I have enough gray hairs now so that my friends would know I did something. The whole idea is repulsive to me. Please give me your opinion. You're a sensible woman and I will listen to you. —UNDECIDED.

Dear Undecided: Some men touch up their graying hair and look younger. Others who dye for dear ol' youth look older because their skin gives them away.

This is a matter for the individual to decide. If the idea is "repulsive to you," don't do it. You'd feel self-conscious and uncomfortable. As for me—I think gray hair is distinguished looking and that it adds charm to a man.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

60th Annual Report Given

Associated Press Expands Its Activity In News Fields

NEW YORK (AP) — The Associated Press has expanded enterprise activity in many news fields, Frank J. Starzel, AP general manager, said today in the worldwide news cooperative's 60th annual report.

He said this activity "responded to the ever-growing demands by newspapers and broadcasters for more reporting-in-depth, more analysis of significance in events and trends, and wider portrayal in human interest or 'people to people' terms."

The report, for the year 1959, was mailed to AP members in advance of the AP annual meeting to be held April 25 in New York.

Starzel said that each year seems to outdo the previous in the complexities of reliably reporting the world news and that 1959 "repeatedly imposed upon your organization multiple tests of efficiency, ingenuity and competence."

"The Associated Press staff acquitted itself magnificently throughout the 12 months," he said. "The inevitable failures and disappointments were few indeed; the outstanding performances were numerously gratifying.

"It was a year during which there was a heavy premium—with rewarding returns—on conspicuously sound organizing for the coverage of top stories such as President Eisenhower's Asian-European-African tour, Khrushchev's visit to the United States, and the prolonged multi-faceted steel strike."

Starzel said "staff teamwork and brilliant individual craftsmanship scored repeated triumphs under some of the most extraordinary working pressures ever experienced."

Starzel said bold new ideas were implemented in the AP's delivery or transmission system.

"Spectacular new techniques in high-speed wire service are achieving important operating gains for newspaper members," he said.

"A new financial service heads this advance, integrating four high-speed Teletypesetter circuits in simultaneous operation."

Noting that 1959 marked the 25th birthday of Wirephoto, Starzel said that "a record of 537 members served directly on the Wirephoto network was established."

"Ninety-one others subscribed to other types of Wirephoto service," he said.

He reported that 1,778 publications were represented in AP membership, a gain of 15, and radio and television stations increased to 2,042, compared to 1,878 at the close of 1958."

35 More Become Ohio Highway Patrolmen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Highway Patrol graduated 35 men from its training academy in exercises at the state fairgrounds today.

The graduating class brings the patrol's manpower to 758, highest in its history.

The class is the fourth to complete a training course within the last 10 months.

The patrol has an authorized strength of 700 plus a complement of 75 men to police the Ohio Turnpike. At present, 66 men of the 758 total will be assigned to the turnpike.

Col. Scott B. Radcliffe, patrol superintendent, said graduates of the next training class, opening April 25, will bring the force to full strength as now authorized by the Legislature.

Pickets Turn Back Workers At GM Plant

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Workers coming in on the midnight shift at Brown-Lipe - Chapin Division of General Motors Corp. in Elyria were turned back by pickets. The pickets were posted after 60 workers launched a strike Thursday night. Carl Cross, president of United Auto Workers Local 780, said the strike was unauthorized.

Reportedly the walkout came after word spread that foremen were clocking the time spent in lavatories. Local 780 has 900 members.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I preserve the rubber gasket around my refrigerator door?

A. Make a habit now and then of dipping a cloth into a solution of two teaspoons of bicarbonate of soda and a glass of warm water, and washing the gasket with this. When it's thoroughly dry, coat it with some talcum powder or cornstarch.

Q. What is a substitute for castor oil?

A. Prune juice is a good substitute for castor oil. Soak the prunes overnight and stew them in the same water. When tender, pierce them with a fork to let out the juice. Do not sweeten.

Q. How can I freshen lemons that have become hardened from long standing?

A. By covering them with boiling water and letting them stand for just a few minutes.

Sour-sop is a tropical tree grown as far north as Florida. Its fruit makes good jelly with a mango-pineapple flavor.

2 Republicans Cite Corcoran On FCC Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House Republicans demanded today that Thomas G. Corcoran be subpoenaed unless he agrees to testify about his off-the-record talks with members of the Federal Power Commission.

Reps. Steven B. Derounian (R-NY) and J. Arthur Younger (R-Calif) said testimony from Corcoran, an attorney, is needed to provide the full story of his private contacts with three FPC members during a multi-million dollar gas pipeline case.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the House Commerce Committee said Thursday Corcoran and two FPC members have been invited to testify next Thursday.

Harris said the FPC members, Arthur Kline and William R. Connole, asked to be heard. Both have said they talked with Corcoran, but both denied any impropriety in the informal conversations.

Corcoran, an attorney who was one of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's original braintrusters, has given no indication whether he would appear, Harris said. Corcoran has not been available for comment to newsmen.

FPC Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall told the committee two weeks ago that a spokesman for a big natural gas firm, later identified as Corcoran, had contacted him twice off the record during the pipeline case.

Racketeer Convicted Of Income Tax Evasion

NEW YORK (AP) — Racketeer Johnny Dio has been convicted of Federal income tax evasion.

U.S. Judge Edward Weinfeld announced the decision Thursday against Dio and his bodyguard, Teddy Ray.

The two had asked Weinfeld to hear the case without a jury. They were continued free on bail until sentencing April 28.

Dio, 46, faces a possible maximum 20 years in prison and $40,000 in fines on a count of conspiracy and three counts of income tax evasion.

Ray, also 46, was convicted of a single tax evasion count plus conspiracy. He can draw 10 years and $20,000 in fines.

200 To Be Laid Off At Sandusky Ford Plant

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has announced it is discontinuing two operations at its plant here and the force will be reduced to 1,450 by mid-summer. The plant employed more than 2,000 persons in January.

Plant Manager Fred J. Meredith said 200 will be laid off in the next few months as a result of the change in operations. As a result of seasonal layoffs and cuts in production schedules, the force now is down to about 1,694. Some 110 employes were to be dropped today.

Frost Damage Cited

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Frost has caused $300,000 damage to Ravenna streets, Service Director Roy E. Long Sr. estimates. Mayor Tom Ritenour said about 18 miles of the damaged streets will need surface treatment.

Pleads Innocent

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — James Buck, ex-convict accused of killing Akron Patrolman Floyd Weatherholt Jr. on March 25, entered a plea of innocent here Thursday after being charged in Municipal Court with first - degree murder. "It was a year during which there was a heavy premium—with rewarding returns—on conspicuously sound organizing for the coverage of top stories such as President Eisenhower's Asian-European-African tour, Khrushchev's visit to the United States, and the prolonged multi-faceted steel strike."

Starzel said "staff teamwork and brilliant individual craftsmanship scored repeated triumphs under some of the most extraordinary working pressures ever experienced."

Starzel said bold new ideas were implemented in the AP's delivery or transmission system.

"Spectacular new techniques in high-speed wire service are achieving important operating gains for newspaper members," he said.

"A new financial service heads this advance, integrating four high-speed Teletypesetter circuits in simultaneous operation."

Noting that 1959 marked the 25th birthday of Wirephoto, Starzel said that "a record of 537 members served directly on the Wirephoto network was established."

"Ninety-one others subscribed to other types of Wirephoto service," he said.

He reported that 1,778 publications were represented in AP membership, a gain of 15, and radio and television stations increased to 2,042, compared to 1,878 at the close of 1958."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I preserve the rubber gasket around my refrigerator door?

A. Make a habit now and then of dipping a cloth into a solution of two teaspoons of bicarbonate of soda and a glass of warm water, and washing the gasket with this. When it's thoroughly dry, coat it with some talcum powder or cornstarch.

Q. What is a substitute for castor oil?

A. Prune juice is a good substitute for castor oil. Soak the prunes, overnight and stew them in the same water. When tender, pierce them with a fork to let out the juice. Do not sweeten.

Q. How can I freshen lemons that have become hardened from long standing?

A. By covering them with boiling water and letting them stand for just a few minutes.

2 Republicans Cite Corcoran On FCC Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House Republicans demanded today that Thomas G. Corcoran be subpoenaed unless he agrees to testify about his off-the-record talks with members of the Federal Power Commission.

Reps. Steven B. Derounian (R-NY) and J. Arthur Younger (R-Calif) said testimony from Corcoran, an attorney, is needed to provide the full story of his private contacts with three FPC members during a multi-million dollar gas pipeline case.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the House Commerce Committee said Thursday Corcoran and two FPC members have been invited to testify next Thursday.

Harris said the FPC members, Arthur Kline and William R. Connole, asked to be heard. Both have said they talked with Corcoran, but both denied any impropriety in the informal conversations.

Corcoran, an attorney who was one of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's original braintrusters, has given no indication whether he would appear, Harris said. Corcoran has not been available for comment to newsmen.

FPC Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall told the committee two weeks ago that a spokesman for a big natural gas firm, later identified as Corcoran, had contacted him twice off the record during the pipeline case.

Plant Manager Fred J. Meredith said 200 will be laid off in the next few months as a result of the change in operations. As a result of seasonal layoffs and cuts in production schedules, the force now is down to about 1,694. Some 110 employes were to be dropped today.

Roberts Favored In Junior Tourney Finals

The Review Sports

Tournament Is 'Proving Grounds' . . .

The Junior tournament, ready to wind up at Memorial Auditorium tonight, is more than just a tournament. It serves as a "tryout camp" for high school basketball players.

Among the "talent scouts" in the stands during Wednesday's quarter-finals were Eddie Melvin, head coach at Toledo University, and Dom Rosselli of Youngstown U.

Both coaches were impressed with the talent which has been participating in the tournament.

Rosselli is one coach who can thank the local tournament for several of his stars. It was in the Junior tournament three years ago that he spotted Beanie Gordon of Washington, Pa.

Beanie went on to star for Dom at Youngstown.

Before Melvin even judges a player's basketball ability, his first question is, "What kind of a student is he?"

He added that Toledo won't even consider an athlete who has been a poor student in high school.

"I've had players whom I couldn't accept at Toledo beat me playing with other schools," Melvin added.

Ed recalled playing in the Tri-State tournament here in 1941. He went to Milkovich then and performed for the Republican Club, which won the tourney. He was named the most valuable player.

He played his college basketball under Chick Davies at Duquesne. Pittsburgh is his hometown.

The best prospects so far in the Junior Tourney include Youngstown's Nick Milasnovich and Bruce Osborn along with Nick Palotta of Canton Central and John Namciu of Canton Timken. Plotta and Namciu are with American Vitrified.

Although Milasnovich hasn't made up his mind, Rosselli wants him pretty bad and it's a good bet that Nick may wind up staying in his home town.

At least four all-staters will perform in tonight's final round. They are Milasnovich, Salem's Dave Hunter, who performs with Travelers Hotel. Namciu and Jack Byrnes of Eason's.

Byrnes, 6-foot-1, can outjump about anyone in the tourney. Besides being all-state in basketball at Swissvale, he was named to the all-state football squad.

BEAT TRAVELERS and Beat Eason's signs have been on display in the downtown area as two friendly rivals, Dick Forzano of the Travelers Hotel and Tom Eason of Eason's Insurance, beat the drums preparatory to tonight's Junior Tournament battle.

Holiday Tourney Set Here . . .

WHILE talking about tournaments, a holiday tourney, the newest fad in high school basketball these days, may get a try here this season.

The East Liverpool High School Athletic Association is planning a two-day tournament during the last week in December.

It will mark the first time a holiday carnival has been held here. The events already are popular throughout Ohio and Pennsylvania.

In order to line up teams, the sponsoring organization must start early. The four teams who will participate in the tournament will play two games in the tournament.

These two games will be part of their 18-game schedule. Ohio teams are only permitted 18 regular season games, but the rule differs in Pennsylvania.

Although the teams haven't given a final OK, the schools the association is attempting to line up are Midland, Marietta and Massillon, along with the host Potter squad.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

BOB HEDMOND, Potter track coach, has a righthand man in Ed Daniels, who is a physical education teacher at Westgate.

Ed was a star sprinter at Muskingum College and is teaching the Potters some of the finer points of track on his own time. In college he ran the 100-yeard dash under 10 seconds.

DENNY REESE, former Lisbon star, is battling for the quarterback spot at Kent State University.

DON SHAW of Chester, who was signed by the Chicago Cubs last season, hasn't reported to spring training as yet. Shaw received one contract, but returned it. He is scheduled to report to a New Mexico farm club.

SANDY WILLIAMS of Steubenville Big Red finished as the top scorer in the Ohio Valley with 472 points for the regular season. East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham was sixth with 333 for 17 contests.

—:—

TWO FORMER East Liverpool athletes have won freshman numerals at the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va.

Gerry Kemple, a varsity basketball standout at East Liverpool, has won freshman basketball numerals while Tom Myers was awarded numerals in wrestling.

Eason Quintet Out To Defend Championship

Roberts Drugs of Bridgeport, which pulled the big upset of the Junior Tourney by knocking off top-seeded Gengarellas in the first round, rate the edge in tonight's windup of the 13th annual cage carnival at the Memorial Auditorium.

American Vitrified, which lists the Canton Timken varsity, will meet Roberts in the first game at 7 p. m.

Eason's Insurance, the defending Junior tourney champion, is back in the final round again this year and will put its crown on the line against Travelers Hotel in the other semi-final tussle scheduled for 7:30.

The semi-final games will be sandwiched with the championship contest getting underway aboout 10 p. m.

Roberts Drugs is made up of players from Steubenville Big Red, Martins Ferry, Wheeling and Bellaire.

The rangy Roberts squad will show a height advantage with such starters as John Koss 6-foot-5 from Wheeling, Bob Patton 6-foot-4 of Martins Ferry and Doug Kinnison 6-foot-5 of Bellaire.

Also in the Roberts lineup is Phil Musgrave, Big Red's great scorer.

Nick Palotta, Canton Central's scoring whiz and all-state center, and John Namciu are expected to provide the offensive thrust for the American Vitrified attack.

The Vitrified team was pressed in its quarter-final victory over a Weirton entry.

The Travelers Hotel-Eason Insurance battle is rated a tossup. A group of All-City stars from Youngstown plus Dave Hunter of Salem and East Liverpool's Ray Bigelow will carry the Travelers banner.

Travelers lists outstanding scorers in All-Ohio Nick Milasnovich of Woodrow Wilson; Bruce Osborn of Chaney and Hunter, another all-state choice.

Swissvale High School, which captured its WPIAL Section title, will carry Eason's hopes of capturing two straight tournament crowns.

Eason's boasts all-state center Jack Byrnes, who stands 6-foot-1 but can outjump anyone left in the tournament.

Team trophies and individual awards will be presented following the final game.

Here's Tonight's Slate For Junior Tournament

100 Attend Lions Dinner

Smith Named Most Valuable Player; McCluskey Speaks At Midland Fete

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The Midland High School basketball team and three of its stars were honored at a banquet sponsored by the Midland Lions Club Thursday night at Deramo's Restaurant.

Nearly 100 varsity and reserve basketball players, Lions Club members and guests attended the affair which was featured with a talk by Ed McCluskey, coach of Farrell High School, state basketball champs this season.

Movie Smith, who became the first player in the history of Midland High School to win four varsity letters in basketball, was named the team's most valuable player for the second straight year.

Coach George Hamilton, who guided Midland to a 22-3 record, termed Smith "one of the finest players I have ever had the pleasure to coach." Smith set the all-time career scoring record at Midland this season.

Gene Lake was voted the team's top defensive player while Carl Anderson, the lone junior on the squad, was awarded the foul shooting trophy. Anderson made 68 per cent of his tries.

The trophies were presented by Hamilton and Frank Migliore of Migliore Ford which sponsors the foul shooting award.

McCluskey returned to Midland Thursday night after an absence of several years. He was head coach there for three seasons before taking the head coaching job at Farrell.

McCluskey has won five Pennsylvania basketball championships at Farrell, more than any other coach in the history of the state.

He asked: "What makes us win at Farrell? The kids are very receptive to taking orders. They never question why."

"We are one of the smallest schools in our section and we don't always have the big boys, but size isn't everything.

"We won the 1952 state championship with only one six-footer in the lineup," he said.

"As far as my philosophy on coaching goes, it is still the same now as when I went to Farrell 10 years ago. I still teach the old fashioned method of shooting fouls underhanded and it has paid off in two state championship games where we have won the game from the foul line," he said.

"We teach that the team comes first and the individual second.

"At Farrell, we like our boys to be students first. On this year's starting five four of the boys are honor students, including Brian Generalovich who is almost a straight "A" student," he explained.

"As far as me leaving Farrell I don't think I would want to move upstairs and take the pressure from a college job," McCluskey said.

"The people of Farrell have been good to me," he added. (Last season fans at Farrell presented him with a new car).

McCluskey was introduced by Steve Trbovich, who served as master of ceremonies.

Paul Adams, president of the Midland Lions Club, presided at the meeting and introduced Bernard J. Murray of Erie, Lions Club district governor, and Art French of Monaca, deputy district governor.

Other guests introduced included Ed Olkowski, assistant basketball coach; Phil Tridico, junior high coach; Dr. Ralph Jewell, superintendent of Midland schools, and William Walters, high school principal.

The Rev. Francis Paul of the Presentation Catholic Church gave the invocation and benediction.

Charles Schmidt and Trbovich were co-chairmen of the banquet.

The club's board of directors will meet next Thursday. At the April 21 meeting, new officers will be nominated and Bernard Murray of Erie, governor of District 14-F, will pay a visit. Officers will be elected at the May 19 meeting.

McCluskey's team captured the Pennsylvania state championship this season.

Most Valuable Again.

Hamilton, Smith Named For All-Star Contest

During the banquet for the Midland High School basketball team Thursday night, Coach Eddie McCluskey of Farrell announced that George Hamilton of Midland would coach the Western Pennsylvania All-Stars and that Movie Smith, Midland center, was one of the players picked on the team.

The Pennsylvania squad will meet the Ohio All-Stars in a game April 30 in conjunction with an all-day basketball clinic at Farrell.

Gene Conley Changes Togs With Seasons

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Big Gene Conley plans to put aside basketball Saturday and head for Leesburg, Fla., to get reacquainted with baseball.

The 6-foot-8, 225-pound pitcher-rebounder discussed his summertime work Thursday night after the Hawks beat the Celtics 105-102 and forced the National Basketball Assn. title playoffs to a seventh game at Boston Saturday afternoon.

Conley, like the rest of the Celtics, is confident of beating the Hawks. In fact, he's anxious to get the job over with so he can shift his thoughts and talents to the Philadelphia Phillies, his employer from April to October.

"I want to get down there and start throwing," he said. "The Phils have a minor league camp at Leesburg and the fellows are in good shape when I get there.

"It's ideal for me, because I can throw harder faster. Since they're all ready, I can't afford to baby myself.

"It'll take me a while to get the feel of a baseball again, but I should be ready in two weeks. At least, I hope to be ready in two weeks. That's all it took last year after I left the Celts."

Conley posted a 3.00 earned run average and 102 strikeouts last year in his finest season since 1954 with Milwaukee. He will rejoin the Phillies in Philadelphia toward the end of this month.

Law In Shape All Year Long

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — While others huff and puff their way through spring training, Vernon Law does the same chores with barely a deep breath. He's in shape 365 days a year.

The Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher runs, hikes and hunts in the off season. An elder in the Mormon church, Law doesn't drink or smoke.

"I've been running as long as I can remember," Law said. "It's the best conditioner of all for any athlete."

The hard work paid off for him last year as he won 18 games and lost nine.

Law finished 20 of 33 games he started last year, winding up the season with a 2.98 earned run average, fifth in the National League.

Law's roommates say he gets to his room and into bed as soon after dinner as possible when there's no night game.

"It's my way of living, the way I was brought up," the Mormon hurler explained. "What the other fellows do or say is their business. Everyone to his own way of life."

Eddie Arcaro, Willie Shoemaker and Johnny Longden, three of the seven living members of the jockeys hall of fame at Pimlico, are still riding.

'Sudden Death' Saturday As Hawks Deadlock Series

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—"They're going to get the winner's share even if they lose Saturday," owner Ben Kerner says of his St. Louis Hawks. "This is the greatest display of guts I've ever seen."

For the fourth time in two weeks, the Hawks rallied to win with their backs to the wall Thursday night, squaring pro basketball's world series at 3-3 with a 105-102 victory over Boston's defending champs.

"They have (Larry) Foust out of action with an injury after playing on an injured heel, (Bob) Pettit with an injured back and Jack McMahon and Dugie Martin out of the entire series," Kerner said. "Yet they keep coming back."

The winning team in the National Basketball Assn. title series gets $17,000 from the league treasury, the loser $11,000. Including their winnings for their regular season finish and for the division playoffs, the Celtics can win as much as $36,000, the Hawks $34,000 in prize money—because Boston had the best regular season record.

If the Hawks lose, Kerner will have to pay the $6,000 difference out of his own pocket. But he says it'll be worth it.

The Celtics were quiet but confident they can win the title game on their home court.

"The worm will turn in Boston," said Tom Heinsohn.

Politics Charged In Selection Of Olympics Cagers

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Fred Taylor, coach of Ohio State University's NCAA basketball champions, charged Thursday night that politics was involved in picking the U.S. Olympic basketball team.

"It was a little bit ridiculous when they overlooked players like Larry Siegfried, John Havlicek (Ohio State) and Jimmy Darrow (Bowling Green)," Taylor said at a sports banquet at nearby Cuyahoga Falls.

"They should pick the team by positions and not by scoring and politics," he said, commenting that the Olympic squad was overloaded with centers.

Jerry Lucas was the only Ohio State player named to the team. Siegfried, Havlicek and Darrow were named alternates.

The Vitrified team was pressed in its quarter-final victory over a Weirton entry.

The Travelers Hotel-Eason Insurance battle is rated a tossup. A group of All-City stars from Youngstown plus Dave Hunter of Salem and East Liverpool's Ray Bigelow will carry the Travelers banner.

Travelers lists outstanding scorers in All-Ohio Nick Milasnovich of Woodrow Wilson; Bruce Osborn of Chaney and Hunter, another all-state choice.

Swissvale High School, which captured its WPIAL Section title, will carry Eason's hopes of capturing two straight tournament crowns.

Eason's boasts all-state center Jack Byrnes, who stands 6-foot-1 but can outjump anyone left in the tournament.

Team trophies and individual awards will be presented following the final game.

'Sudden Death' Saturday As Hawks Deadlock Series

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—"They're going to get the winner's share even if they lose Saturday," owner Ben Kerner says of his St. Louis Hawks. "This is the greatest display of guts I've ever seen."

For the fourth time in two weeks, the Hawks rallied to win with their backs to the wall Thursday night, squaring pro basketball's world series at 3-3 with a 105-102 victory over Boston's defending champs.

"They have (Larry) Foust out of action with an injury after playing on an injured heel, (Bob) Pettit with an injured back and Jack McMahon and Dugie Martin out of the entire series," Kerner said. "Yet they keep coming back."

The winning team in the National Basketball Assn. title series gets $17,000 from the league treasury, the loser $11,000, Including their winnings for their regular season finish and for the division playoffs, the Celtics can win as much as $36,000, the Hawks $34,000 in prize money—because Boston had the best regular season record.

If the Hawks lose, Kerner will have to pay the $6,000 difference out of his own pocket. But he says it'll be worth it.

The Celtics were quiet but confident they can win the title game on their home court.

"The worm will turn in Boston," said Tom Heinsohn.

Politics Charged In Selection Of Olympics Cagers

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Fred Taylor, coach of Ohio State University's NCAA basketball champions, charged Thursday night that politics was involved in picking the U.S. Olympic basketball team.

"It was a little bit ridiculous when they overlooked players like Larry Siegfried, John Havlicek (Ohio State) and Jimmy Darrow (Bowling Green)," Taylor said at a sports banquet at nearby Cuyahoga Falls.

"They should pick the team by positions and not by scoring and politics," he said, commenting that the Olympic squad was overloaded with centers.

Jerry Lucas was the only Ohio State player named to the team. Siegfried, Havlicek and Darrow were named alternates.

100 Attend Lions Dinner

Smith Named Most Valuable Player; McCluskey Speaks At Midland Fete

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The Midland High School basketball team and three of its stars were honored at a banquet sponsored by the Midland Lions Club Thursday night at Deramo's Restaurant.

Nearly 100 varsity and reserve basketball players, Lions Club members and guests attended the affair which was featured with a talk by Ed McCluskey, coach of Farrell High School, state basketball champs this season.

Movie Smith, who became the first player in the history of Midland High School to win four varsity letters in basketball, was named the team's most valuable player for the second straight year.

Coach George Hamilton, who guided Midland to a 22-3 record, termed Smith "one of the finest players I have ever had the pleasure to coach." Smith set the all-time career scoring record at Midland this season.

Gene Lake was voted the team's top defensive player while Carl Anderson, the lone junior on the squad, was awarded the foul shooting trophy. Anderson made 68 per cent of his tries.

The trophies were presented by Hamilton and Frank Migliore of Migliore Ford which sponsors the foul shooting award.

McCluskey returned to Midland Thursday night after an absence of several years. He was head coach there for three seasons before taking the head coaching job at Farrell.

McCluskey has won five Pennsylvania basketball championships at Farrell, more than any other coach in the history of the state.

He asked: "What makes us win at Farrell? The kids are very receptive to taking orders. They never question why."

"We are one of the smallest schools in our section and we don't always have the big boys, but size isn't everything.

"We won the 1952 state championship with only one six-footer in the lineup," he said.

"As far as my philosophy on coaching goes, it is still the same now as when I went to Farrell 10 years ago. I still teach the old fashioned method of shooting fouls underhanded and it has paid off in two state championship games where we have won the game from the foul line," he said.

"We teach that the team comes first and the individual second.

"At Farrell, we like our boys to be students first. On this year's starting five four of the boys are honor students, including Brian Generalovich who is almost a straight "A" student," he explained.

"As far as me leaving Farrell I don't think I would want to move upstairs and take the pressure from a college job," McCluskey said.

"The people of Farrell have been good to me," he added. (Last season fans at Farrell presented him with a new car).

McCluskey was introduced by Steve Trbovich, who served as master of ceremonies.

Hamilton spoke briefly and called McCluskey's work "one of the finest coaching jobs he has ever seen."

Paul Adams, president of the Midland Lions Club, presided at the meeting and introduced Bernard J. Murray of Erie, Lions Club district governor, and Art French of Monaca, deputy district governor.

Other guests introduced included Ed Olkowski, assistant basketball coach; Phil Tridico, junior high coach; Dr. Ralph Jewell, superintendent of Midland schools, and William Walters, high school principal.

The Rev. Francis Paul of the Presentation Catholic Church gave the invocation and benediction.

Charles Schmidt and Trbovich were co-chairmen of the banquet.

The club's board of directors will meet next Thursday. At the April 21 meeting, new officers will be nominated and Bernard Murray of Erie, governor of District 14-F, will pay a visit. Officers will be elected at the May 19 meeting.

The trophy designated Midland as the Section 5 champs. Looking on at right is Coach Eddie McCluskey of Farrell, who was the guest speaker at last night's dinner. McCluskey's team captured the Pennsylvania state championship this season.

Hamilton, Smith Named For All-Star Contest

During the banquet for the Midland High School basketball team Thursday night, Coach Eddie McCluskey of Farrell announced that George Hamilton of Midland would coach the Western Pennsylvania All-Stars and that Movie Smith, Midland center, was one of the players picked on the team.

The Pennsylvania squad will meet the Ohio All-Stars in a game April 30 in conjunction with an all-day basketball clinic at Farrell.

Gene Conley Changes Togs With Seasons

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Big Gene Conley plans to put aside basketball Saturday and head for Leesburg, Fla., to get reacquainted with baseball.

The 6-foot-8, 225-pound pitcher-rebounder discussed his summertime work Thursday night after the Hawks beat the Celtics 105-102 and forced the National Basketball Assn. title playoffs to a seventh game at Boston Saturday afternoon.

Conley, like the rest of the Celtics, is confident of beating the Hawks. In fact, he's anxious to get the job over with so he can shift his thoughts and talents to the Philadelphia Phillies, his employer from April to October.

"I want to get down there and start throwing," he said. "The Phils have a minor league camp at Leesburg and the fellows are in good shape when I get there.

"It's ideal for me, because I can throw harder faster. Since they're all ready, I can't afford to baby myself.

"It'll take me a while to get the feel of a baseball again, but I should be ready in two weeks. At least, I hope to be ready in two weeks. That's all it took last year after I left the Celts."

Conley posted a 3.00 earned run average and 102 strikeouts last year in his finest season since 1954 with Milwaukee. He will rejoin the Phillies in Philadelphia toward the end of this month.

Law In Shape All Year Long

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — While others huff and puff their way through spring training, Vernon Law does the same chores with barely a deep breath. He's in shape 365 days a year.

The Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher runs, hikes and hunts in the off season. An elder in the Mormon church, Law doesn't drink or smoke.

"I've been running as long as I can remember," Law said. "It's the best conditioner of all for any athlete."

The hard work paid off for him last year as he won 18 games and lost nine.

Law finished 20 of 33 games he started last year, winding up the season with a 2.98 earned run average, fifth in the National League.

Law's roommates say he gets to his room and into bed as soon after dinner as possible when there's no night game.

"It's my way of living, the way I was brought up," the Mormon hurler explained. "What the other fellows do or say is their business. Everyone to his own way of life."

Eddie Arcaro, Willie Shoemaker and Johnny Longden, three of the seven living members of the jockeys hall of fame at Pimlico, are still riding.

Palmer Takes Masters' Lead

Pennsylvania Golfer Holds 2-Stroke Edge

By MERCER BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, a husky young Pennsylvanian, today is right where the oddsmakers said he should be — leading the pack into the second round of the 24th Masters golf tournament.

The former Wake Forest College star, hottest item on the tour this year, shows no signs of cooling off. Three days after being bedbound with flu, Palmer fashioned a nifty 5-under-par 67 in Thursday's opening round and grabbed a two-stroke lead.

Some Golfers are superstitious and feel it is bad luck to be pegged the pretournament favorite.

"I try not to let that bother me," said the Ligonier, Pa., professional who won the 1958 Masters.

Three of Palmer's contemporaries and one oldtimer fired 69s. Veteran Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N.Y., who won the 1948 Masters, was bracketed there with Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La.

Amateur Bud Taylor, a dentist from Pomona, Calif., joined Britisher Harry Weetman and tour regular Don January of Denver, Colo., in the 70 column.

Others in the 11-man par-busting brigade were British amateur champion Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., and pros Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., and Bill Casper Jr., reigning U.S. Open champion from Apple Valley, Calif. They had 71s. Par for the rolling 6,850-yard Augusta National course is 36-36—72.

Among those well off the pace were Sam Snead and Ben Hogan, both with 73s, and Jack Nicklaus, the young national amateur champion from Columbus, Ohio, who started with a 75.

39 Are Eliminated In AAU Ring Trial

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — America's AAU boxers, the kids who fight for fun, had a new incentive today as they went into the second round matches of their annual championship tournament.

Thirty-nine of the starting field of 119 were eliminated Thursday night, leaving eight competitors in each of 10 classes for the event which runs through Saturday night.

The 10 winners, in addition to grabbing the national championships, will go to San Francisco May 18, 19 and 20 to fight in the final Olympic trials and then will head for Rome early in June.

In the Italian capital the Americans will fight an exhibition match with the Italian boxers to dedicate the Palazzetto Dello sport arena where the Olympic boxing, wrestling, basketball and weight lifting events will be held in August and September.

Four of the title holders from last year breezed through their opening matches here. They were Brian O'Shea of Chicago, the 132-pound king; Quincey Daniels of Seattle, Wash., the 139-pound winner; Wilbert McClure, the 156-pounder from Toledo, who was named last year's outstanding amateur boxer, and Cassius Clay, the Louisville, Ky., high school student who won the AAU crown last year and has taken the Golden Gloves title twice in a row.

Nieder Doesn't Expect Shot Record To Stand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bill Nieder, who has thrown the 16-pound shot farther than any other human, doesn't expect his record to stand up long.

"Earlier I predicted the eventual shot put limitation would be 67 or 68 feet," said the 242-pound ex-Kansan who last week threw 65 feet 7 inches.

"Now I don't know. I realize there will be boys bigger and stronger than myself. They'll be just as well coordinated, if not better. If I can throw 65 feet now, the barrier won't be the 67 or 68."

College Stars Head Entry List In Wellsville Play

Charley Boykin, an All-Ohio selection in 1957 and a varsity standout with Kent State University's Golden Flashes, is one of many college stars set to appear in the Wellsville Jaycee basketball tournament which opens Monday for a five-night stand at Beacom Memorial gym.

Boykin, prolific scorer for Kent Roosevelt who appeared in the Ohio high school finals in Columbus two years back, will perform with other Kent stars under the banner of Johnny's Lunch of Wellsville.

The restaurant entry also lists towering Ron Brown, 6-6, most valuable player in last year's tournament, Gus Johnson, 6-6, of Akron, Holly Edwards, Dick Dennis and Franklin Jackson, standout this season with the Wellsville High varsity.

The same outfit, minus Jackson, was tournament runner-up last year to Chuck Kennedy's of East Liverpool. Kennedy's is scheduled to defend the title it won in 1959 with East Liverpool's Frank Chan, Bob Bingham, Larry Romboski and Arnold Riser of Pittsburgh.

A former area court standout—Al Brammer of Salineville High and Youngstown College—will perform with Kellogg's Confectionery of Salineville. The Owls Club of East Liverpool is another local entry.

Teams have until midnight Saturday to enter the second annual tournament. The entry fee is $15, according to Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, director.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce, Box 158, Wellsville or the House of Wax on Main St.

'The Other Guys' Homer As Senators, Giants Win

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco's Matty Alou and Washington's Don Mincher, the other guy in the Sievers-Battey trade, can be added to the list of potential power hitters.

Each homered twice Thursday as the Giants and Senators won spring training games. And it may not be too long before their names turn up frequently in major league baseball boxscores. Both spent last season with Class A minor league teams.

The Giants, who defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-2 at Phoenix, already have a solid starting outfield in Orlando Cepeda, Willie Mays and Willie Kirkland.

The Senators, who whipped Kansas City 10-5 at Orlando, have a definite need for first baseman Mincher. When they sent Roy Sievers to the Chicago White Sox for Earl Battey, Mincher and $150,000, Julio Becquer, a pesky but light hitter, inherited the first base job.

Alou, square name Mateo, is on the roster of the Rio Grande Valley Giants in the Texas League and probably will be sent down. But only Kirkland among the Giants' regular outfielders bats left-handed, and an injury to, or slump by, Kirkland could give Matty a break.

Matty's second consecutive homer Thursday capped a three-run seventh that made a winner of Giant starter Mike McCormick. Both were off Tom Brewer.

Mincher batted in five runs with a two-run blast off A's starter John Tsitouris and a three-run shot off Bob Trowbridge. Allison also homered for the Senators.

In other games, Milwaukee defeated Cincinnati 7-5 at Columbia, S.C.; Baltimore beat Pittsburgh 9-8 at Fort Myers; New York shaded Detroit 2-1 at St. Petersburg; St. Louis defeated Cleveland 10-7 at Tucson, and Los Angeles outlasted the Chicago Cubs 14-12 at Mesa. The Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia were idle.

Bowling Writers Pick New Prexy

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fred Wolf, Detroit radio and television commentator, is the new president of the Bowling Writers Assn. of America.

Wolf was elected Thursday at the annual meeting of the association, held in conjunction with the American Bowling Congress convention.

Sam Levine, publisher of the Cleveland Kegler, was named executive vice president.

Hank Sayrs of the Milwaukee Sentinel, executive secretary of the association, won the group's annual bowling tournament scratch award with 599 actual.

Fritz E. Howell, Associated Press sports writer, won the handicap tournament with 695 (597 actual).

The watch Howell was awarded was the second presented to him in two days. Wednesday night he was given another watch when he received the Mort Luby Memorial Award for long service to bowling.

700 Coaches Awaited At Spring Grid Clinic

CINCINNATI (AP) — Approximately 700 coaches were expected here today for the opening of the University of Cincinnati's 12th annual spring football coaching clinic.

Weeb Ewbank of the professional Baltimore Colts was to be the top speaker at today's program and Ray Graves, coach at the University of Florida, will head Saturday's speakers.

Members of the Cincinnati grid squad, now engaged in spring practice, will play an intra-squad game Saturday after the closing session of the clinic. Ordinarly a game between the varsity and alumni is the closing event but that contest was set back this year to April 30 after bad weather delayed the start of spring drills.

Cincinnati To Make New Pro Boxing Effort

CINCINNATI (AP) — Another effort will be made April 23 to re-establish professional boxing in Cincinnati.

Except for a few sporadic shows there has been no professional boxing here for several years.

Alex Sinclair, general manager of the Cincinnati Gardens, said Nick Turner, formerly of Columbus, and Harry Budnewski, formerly of Buffalo, N.Y., will be matched in the main event with the winner claiming the Ohio heavyweight championship.

Frank Williams of Cincinnati and James Wakefield of Louisville, Ky., 190-pounders, will meet in another 10-round match.

Dodgers Trade Zimmer To Cubs For 3 Rookies

MESA, Ariz. (AP) —Don Zimmer, for six years a hollerguy infielder with the Dodgers, is now a Chicago Cub.

He was traded by Los Angeles Thursday night in a deal that gave the world champions three Cub farmhands from Houston of the American Assn.

The Cubs hope the 29-year-old Zimmer will plug a third base gap in the Chicago infield. They'll get their look at the scrappy ex-Dodger today when the Cubs meet the St. Louis Cardinals, who also were bidding for Zimmer.

Cards Whip Indians, 10-7, In Cactus League Finale

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have wound up their exhibition schedule here, and the quality of pitching has left much to be desired.

Absorbing a 10-7 shellacking from St. Louis, the Indians ended the Cactus League season Thursday with a 9-14 record.

The pitching has been so bad, Mel Harder, Indian pitching coach, says he is getting an inferiority complex.

Harder and Manager Joe Gordon hope they will see an improvement when southpaw Herb Score goes on the mound Saturday in New Orleans, where the Indians open a weekend exhibition series against the Boston Red Six.

St. Louis rapped four Tribe hurlers — Jack Harshman, Carl Thomas, Jim Perry and Dick Stigman—for 15 hits, with the defeat pinned on Perry.

Mike Lee, 18-year-old bonus boy who has done little more than watch all spring, was able to get the Cardinals out, retiring three in a row in the ninth. It was only Lee's second exhibition appearance.

Infielder Woodie Held was a bright spot, leading off the second inning with a homer—the Indians' first run of the game and the star shortstop's first homer of the year.

The Indians grabbed 13 hits off Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell in eight innings. Lindy McDaniel hurled the ninth and killed the Tribe's hopes by retiring three straight.

The Tribe had a 6-5 lead going into the sixth. Then the Cards scored three off Perry. St. Louis' Bill White, a Warren (Ohio) boy, doubled, sending Daryl Spencer across with the tying run.

Ken Boyer hit a high chopper in front of the plate and beat it out, moving White to third. He scored on a sacrifice fly by Stan Musial, making it 7-6. Another run scored on a fluke triple.

Classic Division To Be Voted On By ABC Delegates

TOLEDO, Ohio. (AP) —Delegates to the American Bowling Congress convention were to vote today on a controversial proposal for a classic division in the annual ABC tournament.

It appeared support for the radical alteration in the ABC format was lagging, and observers expected the amendment to be tabled.

The measure would set up a separate division for highly supsidized bowlers who earn their basic livelihood from bowling as compared with those who bowl for a hobby.

Buffalo was awarded the 1963 ABC tourney Thursday.

Scoring in the tournament remained at a low level, although two teams managed to crack the top standings. The Slovak Club, New Castle, Pa., claimed third place in the Booster class with 2,787, while Dubiel Delicatessen of Detroit snared third in the Open division with 2,996.

National Guard Assn. Head Due In Ohio Talk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison, president of the National Guard Assn. of the United States, will be the main speaker at the annual convention of the Ohio National Guard Assn., meeting this weekend.

More than 500 air and ground National Guard officers will attend the convention which ends Sunday morning with election of officers. Col. Erle H. Bridgewater Jr., of Athens, is current president of the Ohio group.

Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, former president of the national organization (1943-1957), Rear Adm. Chester Ward, judge advocate general of the Navy, and Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, Ohio adjutant general, also will speak.

Too Many Errors

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Rookie outfielder Barry Shetrone of the Baltimore Orioles has a right to be peeved. In the official American League fielding records he is charged with 38 errors for 23 games for 1959. He made only two miscues after coming up from Vancouver, B.C.

Braves Are Continuing Their Hex Over Reds

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Are the Milwaukee Braves preparing to exercise their old hex on the Cincinnati Reds again?

For a couple of years, it will be recalled, about all the Braves had to do was to walk on the field and the Reds would roll over dead. Then last year, things changed a bit. The Braves had to rally to finish with an 11-11 mark against Cincinnati.

The Reds won the first two spring training games from the Braves this year. But the barnstorming trip the teams are taking home has changed the picture. Milwaukee now has won three in a row from the Rhinelanders.

They did it Thursday at Columbia, S.C., 7-5, as Cincinnati blew a grand chance to win the game in the last of the ninth. The Reds got one run in and had the bases loaded with one out but Jerry Lynch looked at a third strike and Ed Bailey went down swinging.

A possible resumption of the Milwaukee jinx isn't the only worry confronting Manager Fred Hutchinson.

Another concerns rookie outfielder Tony Gonzalez.

Gonzalez, a ball of fire with the bat through most of spring training, has had only one hit in 15 times at bat in the three games against Milwaukee and has fanned seven times.

If it turns out Gonzalez can't make the grade against top flight major league pitching, Hutchinson will have both first base and outfield worries.

If Gonzalez fails, Hutchinson might platoon Lynch and Lee Walls in the outfield and leave Frank Robinson at first base. Or he could send Robinson back to the outfield and use Walls at first base with help coming by returning Coach Whitey Lockman to the active list.

Walls isn't too fancy around the bag, however, and Robinson might not be able to go back to the outfield because of his ailing throwing arm.

In Thursday's game the Braves nicked Joe Nuxhall for five of their seven runs in the six innings he pitched. But he actually had only one bad frame. That was the fifth when Milwaukee used four straight hits for three runs.

Cal McLish gave up two more tallies in two innings and Raul Sanchez finished.

Lew Burdette allowed three of the Cincinnati runs and reliever Ken MacKenzie gave up the other two. He had two on when Bob Giggie relieved him in the ninth. Giggie hit Robinson to fill the bases but then got Lynch and Bailey on strikes.

Either Bob Purkey or Jim O'Toole was scheduled to start for the Reds here today with Warren Spahn opposiing.

Soni's record of 14-21-1 includes 9 knockouts.

Montreal Takes Opening Game In Hockey Playoffs

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal Coach Toe Blake is far from confident his Canadiens will go on and win their fifth straight Stanley Cup after taking a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven final series against Toronto.

The Canadiens scored three times in the first period Thursday night and made the goals stand up for a 4-2 victory in the National Hockey League's world series.

"They're going to be tough," Blake said afterwards.

Blake thought his players tired after the Leafs closed the gap to 3-2 with two second period goals. Henri Richard got the last Montreal goal in the final period after getting an assist on each of the first period scores.

Toronto Coach Punch Imlach was far from discouraged for the second game Saturday night at the Forum.

"They got the breaks," he said. "Sooner or later we're going to get them too."

7 Free On Bond With Appeal Due

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fred and Marie Haug and five other persons convicted in Cleveland of conspiring to file false non-Communist affidavits will be permitted to remain free on bond while their cases are taken to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, Thursday granted a defense motion for continuation of bail. The appeals court previously had ordered the seven taken into custody after it affirmed their convictions last Feb. 15.

The Haugs, James West, Andrew Remes, Hyman Lumer, Sam Reed and Eric Reinthaler were convicted at Cleveland on Jan. 29, 1958. They were sentenced to 18 months in prison.

The prosecution claimed the Haugs, officials of separate unions, filed false non-Communist affidavits with the National Labor Relations Board and that the others conspired with them in the filings.

Powell hit 14 homers in 56 games with Bluefield, W. Va., last year.

"It doesn't matter much who pitches," says Oriole manager Paul Richards.

Powell, a bonus player, was born in Lakeland, Fla., but lives in Key West. He's 6-foot-3 and bats left-handed.

Cocktail Calories Pose Problem

Despite the fact that alcohol, the popular social solvent, is known to be 100 proof trouble for waistline watchers, readers have asked your dietitian to make some allowance for such conviviality calories. To wit:

By Ida Jean Kain

"You must know that many of us, especially in large cities, do no feel we have dined unless we have had a cocktail or two before dinner, and who also like an occasional nightcap. Some of us, too, acquired the taste for table wine with our food when we were in countries where wine is served as a matter of course.

"In your diets you never take these calories into account. To give up all spirited beverages seems too dreary to contemplate, for suppose one gave them up for the duration of the diet, back the pounds would come when one imbibed again. Won't you keep us 'wine, dine, and song' types' in you advice framework?"

WELL, LET'S SEE. . . three time were stipulated — pre-prandial cocktails, wine with the meal, and a night cap. For those who hope to indulge at all three times and curb calories too, no factual solace can be offered. I kid you not.

The dieter's dilemma is that spirited beverages convey potent calories unaccompanied by repair or regulating nutrients. Such beverages furnish no protein, vitamins, or minerals — all nutrients essential to life and to the pursuit of happiness.

But to return to the subject of how to allow for extra-curricular calories and avoid corpulence: First decide which time can most effectively sooth away the cares of the day. If it's the drink before dinner that eases the day's accumulated tensions, relax and sip it slowly. Skip the canapse and peanuts.

At dinner, pass up dessert. Realize that sweet desserts and alcohol both furnish carbohydrate—largely "empty" calories. You can have those carbohydrate calories in dinner wine, or save your dessert calories for later . . in a night cap. Take your choice.

Excess consumption of alcohol may result directly or indirectly in malnutrition. One dietary deficiency to guard against is a lack of vitamins, particularly vitamin B-one. Of course, protein must always be the backbone of the diet and included at each of the three meals a day.

The balance of the menu is made up of fruits and vegetables and skim milk. Hot soup made with skim milk gives real comfort. Bolster the day's nutrition with a Vitamin A, B, C, D capsule.

ON A DIET restricted to 1,000 calories, 100 calories could be squandered in alcohol. But the 900 food calories should all be in protective foods. Or reduce more slowly on 1,200 calories daily, which allows for two drinks.

An overweight man can reduce on 1,500 calories a day, 300 of which could be allocated to spirited beverages. The only other way to have your cocktail and keep from corpulence is to step up exercise so as to burn more calories. That's the story.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Alcohol Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

DiSalle To Pick Study Group To Examine Ohio Crime Code

CLEVELAND (AP)—We need to revise our attitudes toward crime and punishment, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The governor, here to address a meeting of the Cleveland Bar Assn., told a news conference Thursday he will appoint a study group shortly to examine the state's criminal code.

In his speech, DiSalle said present methods of criminal punishment have failed and recommended modern mental care and use of rehabilitation institutions as a partial solution.

Noting that a large number of offenders are returned to prison after their release, DiSalle said:

"The methods we have been using have failed to cope with the problems. Our institutions are institutions of futility . . . We must re-examine our methods and try to find the reason for the failures."

Referring to his disagreement with Ray T. Miller, Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, and his recent clash with a Cleveland Press and News writer over a story the paper published, DiSalle quipped:

"I doubt if anyone in Ohio's history has ever been in disagreement with Ray Miller and the Cleveland Press at the same time."

The newspaper has differed with Miller for years.

He told the news conference he did not consider his differences with Miller a feud. "Let's say there is a disagreement over the relationship of government to the party. I believe an elected official has a responsibility to the people. I believe that the political party is ancillary to government, not that government is ancillary to the party. That is the basis of my disagreement with Ray Miller, I feel."

Ohioans' Voting Listed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Democratic Sens. Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche voted with the majority in two Senate actions Wednesday. The first was an amendment to limit the voting rights section of the civil rights bill to congressional elections, which the Senate killed 72-16. In the second action, the Senate killed, 68-18, an amendment to exempt special and primary elections from a civil rights bill requirement for preservation of voting records for 22 months.

Ex-FDR Aide Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lowell Mellett, 76, newspaper executive and former assistant to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died Wednesday after a long illness. In his long newspaper career, Mellett had served as editor of the Washington Daily News and manager of the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance. He also had been manager of the United Press Washington bureau and war correspondent during World War I. From 1944 to 1956 he had written a column for the Washington Evening Star.

Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democratic Sens. Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche voted with the majority Thursday when the Senate adopted a compromise amendment to the civil rights bill to meet southern objections that contested Negro voters might have an advantage over whites. The vote was 79-12 for adoption.

Keep In Trim

Cocktail Calories Pose Problem

Despite the fact that alcohol, the popular social solvent, is known to be 100 proof trouble for waistline watchers, readers have asked your dietitian to make some allowance for such conviviality calories. To wit:

By Ida Jean Kain

"You must know that many of us, especially in large cities, do no feel we have dined unless we have had a cocktail or two before dinner, and who also like an occasional nightcap. Some of us, too, acquired the taste for table wine with our food when we were in countries where wine is served as a matter of course.

"In your diets you never take these calories into account. To give up all spirited beverages seems too dreary to contemplate, for suppose one gave them up for the duration of the diet, back the pounds would come when one imbibed again. Won't you keep us 'wine, dine, and song' types in you advice framework?"

WELL, LET'S SEE. . . three time were stipulated — pre-prandial cocktails, wine with the meal, and a night cap. For those who hope to indulge at all three times and curb calories too, no factual solace can be offered. I kid you not.

The dieter's dilemma is that spirited beverages convey potent calories unaccompanied by repair or regulating nutrients. Such beverages furnish no protein, vitamins, or minerals — all nutrients essential to life and to the pursuit of happiness.

But to return to the subject of how to allow for extra-curricular calories and avoid corpulence: First decide which time can most effectively sooth away the cares of the day. If it's the drink before dinner that eases the day's accumulated tensions, relax and sip it slowly. Skip the canapse and peanuts.

At dinner, pass up dessert. Realize that sweet desserts and alcohol both furnish carbohydrate—largely "empty" calories. You can have those carbohydrate calories in dinner wine, or save your dessert calories for later . . in a night cap. Take your choice.

Excess consumption of alcohol may result directly or indirectly in malnutrition. One dietary deficiency to guard against is a lack of vitamins, particularly vitamin B-one. Of course, protein must always be the backbone of the diet and included at each of the three meals a day.

The balance of the menu is made up of fruits and vegetables and skim milk. Hot soup made with skim milk gives real comfort. Bolster the day's nutrition with a Vitamin A, B, C, D capsule.

ON A DIET restricted to 1,000 calories, 100 calories could be squandered in alcohol. But the 900 food calories should all be in protective foods. Or reduce more slowly on 1,200 calories daily, which allows for two drinks.

An overweight man can reduce on 1,500 calories a day, 300 of which could be allocated to spirited beverages. The only other way to have your cocktail and keep from corpulence is to step up exercise so as to burn more calories. That's the story.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Alcohol Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

DiSalle To Pick Study Group To Examine Ohio Crime Code

CLEVELAND (AP)—We need to revise our attitudes toward crime and punishment, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The governor, here to address a meeting of the Cleveland Bar Assn., told a news conference Thursday he will appoint a study group shortly to examine the state's criminal code.

In his speech, DiSalle said present methods of criminal punishment have failed and recommended modern mental care and use of rehabilitation institutions as a partial solution.

Noting that a large number of offenders are returned to prison after their release, DiSalle said:

"The methods we have been using have failed to cope with the problems. Our institutions are institutions of futility . . . We must re-examine our methods and try to find the reason for the failures."

Referring to his disagreement with Ray T. Miller, Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, and his recent clash with a Cleveland Press and News writer over a story the paper published, DiSalle quipped:

"I doubt if anyone in Ohio's history has ever been in disagreement with Ray Miller and the Cleveland Press at the same time."

The newspaper has differed with Miller for years.

He told the news conference he did not consider his differences with Miller a feud. "Let's say there is a disagreement over the relationship of government to the party. I believe an elected official has a responsibility to the people. I believe that the political party is ancillary to government, not that government is ancillary to the party. That is the basis of my disagreement with Ray Miller, I feel."

Ohioans' Voting Listed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Democratic Sens. Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche voted with the majority in two Senate actions Wednesday. The first was an amendment to limit the voting rights section of the civil rights bill to congressional elections, which the Senate killed 72-16. In the second action, the Senate killed, 68-18, an amendment to exempt special and primary elections from a civil rights bill requirement for preservation of voting records for 22 months.

Ex-FDR Aide Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lowell Mellett, 76, newspaper executive and former assistant to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died Wednesday after a long illness. In his long newspaper career, Mellett had served as editor of the Washington Daily News and manager of the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance. He also had been manager of the United Press Washington bureau and war correspondent during World War I. From 1944 to 1956 he had written a column for the Washington Evening Star.

Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democratic Sens. Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche voted with the majority Thursday when the Senate adopted a compromise amendment to the civil rights bill to meet southern objections that contested Negro voters might have an advantage over whites. The vote was 79-12 for adoption.
